Expect Dayan to make pullback offer

Israeli concessions seen

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan is expected to offer a withdrawal from the Suez Canal and to seek reassurances that it will be opened to Israeli shipping when he meets with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

After today's meeting with Kissinger, Dayan will ask the Pentagon for new jets, antitank missiles and other sophisticated weapons. U.S. officials are convinced that enough of his requests will be met eventually to upgrade Israel's forces above pre-October War levels

Dayan's visit could mark a turning point in the Geneva negotiations from generally conceptual discussions to concrete give-and-take. "It has always been understood that after the Israeli elections the talks might accelerate." Kissinger told a news conference Thursday in San Clemente, Calif.

The secretary flew to Washington Thursday night, arriving on a commercial jet a few hours before Dayan came in on an overseas flight. They planned to meet at the State Department at noon, continue their talks at lunch, and then break off in late afternoon for Dayan to call on Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger.

Even a proposal for a unilateral and sizable Israeli pullback would not surprise Kissinger and his aides since all parties to the Middle East negotiations anticipate more than a simple separation of Israeli and Egyptian

The question is whether Dayan will be able to go home with a solid expectation that Egypt will be prepared to permit Israeli ships and those of

Nixon signs bill boosting benefits

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) -Larger checks are in store for millions of Social Security recipients April 3 and again July 3 as the result of an 11 per cent benefit boost signed into law by President Nixon.

Under legislation signed by Nixon on Thursday, average monthly benefits for an individual will rise from $161 to $181, while those for a couple will jump from $276 to $310.

The increases will take place in two steps, with a 7 per cent increase taking effect with March checks distributed April 3 and the other 4 per cent reflected in June checks delivered July 3.

To help finance the increases, the law imposes a higher earnings level at which Social Security taxes will be deducted from workers' paychecks. The earnings subject to taxes will be $13,200 this year, up from the $12,600 base planned before the new law was

Although there is no change in the 5.85 per cent tax rate imposed on workers and their employers, the maximum tax to be collected annually from each will rise from $631.80 in 1973 to $772.20 this year because of the higher wage base.

The new law raises minimum Social Security benefits from $84.50 to $93.80 and increases the maximum from $411 to $456 for a couple.

"With these increases, Social Security benefits will have risen by 68.5 per cent since this administration took office nearly five years ago," Nixon noted in signing the measure.

While the United States remains a reliable military ally, Kissinger at the same time is projecting the U.S. role as even-handed in seeking peace in the Middle East.

Station closings on Saturdays ruled out now

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Henry A. Kissinger said President Energy Office has decided against seeking Saturday closings of gasoline stations as a way to cut fuel consumption further.

"It is definitely out," an energy office spokesman said. "Saturday closings would just wreck recreation outlets in the country, and it's a big business."

Federal energy chief William E. Simon had said as late as a week ago that the Saturday-closing move was under serious consideration. Now, he feels the measure is not needed to deal with the gasoline shortage.

The energy office has already asked the nation's 225,000 gasoline stations to sumption. A high percentage have daily in the last three months. complied. Simon said the Sundayclosing request will become mandatory if he gets the power from Congress.

As for the government's conservation moves, Simon said after a news conference Thursday: "We feel we've got everything in place necessary to lick this problem.

During the news conference, he and from the public on government con- beginning of the servation measures has given new hope that gasoline rationing can be avoided. A high energy official said later. however, that the key test will come this month as gasoline production is

Simon said major oil companies have agreed to encourage the voluntary 10gallon-per-customer limit on service stations sales. Company-owned stations will enforce that limit, he said.

He said that gasoline consumption continued to decline in December, but added the savings fell far short of the 20 per cent reduction considered necessary.

On Feb. 1, he said, the energy office will announce another gasoline price increase to compensate service stations for their loss of sales volume because of the fuel shortage.

By March 1, he said, gasoline prices nationwide will average 8 to 11 cents per gallon higher than the level prevailing in December. The increased cost of foreign oil is a major reason for the expected rise. In San Clemente, Secretary of State for re-election this year.

Nixon is preparing personal initiatives to try to solve the energy crisis, but said details wouldn't be disclosed until next week.

Kissinger called the Arab embargo "increasingly less appropriate" and said Nixon's moves would seek to build cooperation between the oil-producing and oil-consuming nations. The cutoff was initiated in late October after the Mideast war broke out.

Meantime, military sources said the Pentagon has asked the White House and the energy office for an increased fuel allocation of between 10 and 15 per cent. The Pentagon has used an close on Sundays to discourage con- average of about 62,500 barrels of oil

Jobless rate on increase

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's unemployment rate moved up from 4.7 per cent to 4.9 per cent of the work force in December, marking the second other energy officials said the response consecutive monthly increase since the government reported today.

The increase apparently was due to the general slowdown of the economy but analysts for the Bureau of Labor Statistics said they lacked complete information to determine the effect of the fuel shortage on the jobless rate.

Administration officials had said previously the impact would be felt in December and even more sharply during the first three months of this

President Nixon's chief economic adviser, Herbert Stein, has forecast a jobless rate reaching about 6 per cent later this year as the full effects of the energy crisis impact on the economy. According to the Labor Department report the number of people out of work increased by 170,000 last month to a total of 4.4 million. This followed an increase of 200,000 in the jobless rate in November.

Daylight time due Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) - Year-round daylight saving time will go into effect in almost all parts of the United States Sunday as part of President Nixon's energy-conservation program.

It will be the first time the nation has been on year-round daylight time since World War II.

All but two states - Indiana and Hawaii - apparently will set their clocks ahead one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday, although four other states have applied for exemptions and other parts of the nation could be exempted by state legislation.

Indiana has passed legislation in the past exempting it from daylight time, and the state was excluded from the new bill. Hawaii was exempted because of its location near the Equator, where there is little seasonal variation in the number of daylight hours.

Under the legislation, President Nixon — or his designated representative - can exempt any state from daylight time if the state's governor can show the time change would work undue hardship or that remaining on standard time during the winter months would save more fuel.

Arizona, Oregon and Kentucky have applied for exemptions, according to the Uniform Time Office, and Idaho has requested that its area under mountain time be exempted.

All four requests are under advisement, the office says, and Transportation Secretary Claude Brinegar was to make a ruling as the President's representative late today.

The nation will remain on daylight time through October 1975, unless Congress decides to change the law.

The switch to daylight time has been touted by the White House as an energy-saver, although many supporters of the bill acknowledge they are unsure what effect, if any, the measure will have on the energy crisis.

The White House has claimed that shifting an hour of daylight from the morning to the evening hours could cut back electricity and heating demands by as much as three per cent, particularly in the northern regions of the country. This could mean a savings equivalent to 150,000 barrels of oil a day, the administration has said.

It says people would not need to turn on their lights as early at night if daylight savings time was in effect. Baby abducted only hours

LEAST EGOTISTS DON'T GO AROUND TALKING ABOUT OTHER PEOPLE

died Sunday. The next day her only other child, John Glenn Lawrence, Saxbe takes cabinet post today

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Bart Saxbe, blunt-spoken veteran of Ohio Republican politics, takes over the Justice Department as the nation's 70th attorney general today.

He is convinced, despite recent efforts to the contrary, that politics has a place in the government's chief law enforcement arm.

Saxbe is equally convinced that he and his close associates will be immune from improper political pressures. He says there is no need for the steps his predecessor designed to prove the truth of that immunity to the public.

After five years in the Senate, Saxbe officially gave up his seat Thursday in preparing for his late-afternoon swearingin ceremony in the department's Great Hall. The oath will be administered by an Ohio colleague, former state Supreme Court Judge Robert M. Duncan, now a judge on the U.S. Court of Military Appeals.

Some 300 Ohio friends and dozens of government officials planned to attend but neither President Nixon nor Vice President Gerald R. Ford said they expected to be there.

Saxbe becomes Nixon's fourth attorney general and brings the department a set of goals somewhat different from those of Elliot L. Richardson, who resigned Oct. 20 rather than obey Nixon's order to fire Archibald Cox as special Watergate prosecutor.

The thrust of Richardson's five months in office was an effort to take politics out of the department.

Saxbe said in an interview he will at least modify an order Richardson considered a key element of that drive. The order required department officials to keep written records of their contacts with outsiders expressing views on specific cases.

The rule applied to White House us to try to have to say that so-and-so officials and congressmen as well as to private citizens and lobbyists.

The records were confidential but could have been made public in court proceedings or in response to ac-"I'm not too keen on this," Saxbe

I'm not going to be worried about doubts. I hope and pray she has good Regents Board expansion pushed by solon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)-A Democratic state senator wants to add four legislators to the nine-member Ohio Board of Regents to help improve "credibility" with the general public.

Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, introduced the measure Thursday as state lawmakers ended their first 1974 work week and closed shop until 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The regents have been under the scrutiny of many individual legislators in recent weeks in the wake of a Gilligan Administration task force recommendation that would scrap plans for two new medical schools in Dayton and northeast Ohio. Planners of the new facilities received the go-ahead from the legislature only last year.

Although the regents have taken no official posture on the task force proposal so far, Chancellor James Norton has said he will recommend to one school proceed with the other project being held for further study. Norton did not designate either school for priority.

The Dayton school would be a consortium to serve Wright State, Miami, and Central State Universities, while the northeast Ohio facility would be a combined facility for the University of Akron, Kent State University, and Youngstown State University. Meshel made no mention of the med schools, but he said "too often, there are great chasms developed between the wishes of the legislature and the actions of the various boards and commissions of both state and local governments. "This bill could aid in building credibility for the Board of Regents with the general public." His measure would add two House members and two senators to the board. They would represent both political parties, and this year's session that construction of serve two-year terms without compensation.

> Nine new Senate bills were introduced and seven more offered in the House during brief Thursday floor sessions. Added to the growing list of energy bills were proposals to permit operating schools four days a week during fuel emergencies and prohibit schools from operating before 9 a.m. as a result of a switch to year around day-

> Without dissent, the House passed 91-0 and sent to the Senate a bill to aid 'good samaritans' injured or killed while trying to help a victim of a crime.

> Rep. Casey Jones, D-45 Toledo, was lead sponsor of the measure which permits a proposed State Court of Claims to pay up to $10,000 to an injured party or to his or her estate.

Also approved by the House (80-12) was a measure giving courts more authority in awarding custody of a 14 to 16-year-old child to one or other of his divorced parents. It also goes to the Senate. Senators had no bills up for floor consideration at a session that lasted only nine minutes.

Minority Leader Anthony O Calabrese, D-22 Cleveland, announced the postponement until next Tuesday of a Democratic challenge to the appointment of the Senate of Republican Charles P. Bolton of Mentor. He was named to the 31st District vacancy created by the Dec. 31 resignation of Sen. Robert E. Stockdale of Kent. Stockdale stepped down for health Democrats said they will submit a formal protest claiming Bolton, who returned to Ohio last July after living in New York for several years, does not meet the Senate's one-year state residency requirement. Bolton maintained his voting residence in Mentor throughout his absence.

Laos sells rice, seeks U. S. help

WASHINGTON (AP) - Laotian peasants are selling their first good rice crop in years and then turning to the United States for emergency aid when they run out of food, American officials say.

Sources in the Agency for International Development (AID), say the situation could cost the United States hundreds of thousands of

For years Laos has had a severe rice shortage and AID has supplied food to as many as 379,000 peasants a year.

The past year the crop was excellent and resulted in a drop to 161,000 in the number of Laotians receiving the American food.

The aid amounts to about 17 pounds of rice a month to each person, plus 15 pounds of protein food.

However, many of the peasants who have gone off the program have ignored advice by American experts and are not storing the surplus for seed and future consumption, officials say.

Instead, they are keeping just enough to eat for the next few months and are selling the rest.

American policy is to provide food to Laotians until they become selfsufficient. For many years, the crops have been so poor that few people could ever grow enough to feed themselves.

But the past crop was bountiful and AID discontinued rice shipments for 218,000 peasants, telling them they disaster cut their food supplies.

That the U.S. advice to store the surplus rice was rejected is no surprise, the American sources say. The peasants not only have been hungry, they have been poor. U.S. officials say it is understandable that they would take a rare chance to pick up some money

There is little that can be done to stop the selling, the officials say.

The only direct punishment is to refuse aid to peasants who ask for food after having sold their own harvest. Officials say it is difficult to prove that such peasants have sold their extra

And even if that could be done there are humanitarian and political reasons give the aid, the officials concede.

'How can you tell some farmer he and his family must go hungry because they tried to make a little pocket money for once in their life," one source said.

Further, Democratic Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts has been critical of the American aid program in Southeast Asia, charging the administration often has not given sufficient help to refugees in the area.

To take a hard-nosed attitude on the rice aid would only give new ammunition to Kennedy, the AID sources acknowledge.

Officials feel, the only apparent course of action is to give aid when necessary, hope for another bumper were on their own unless a natural crop and continue to encourage the peasants to conserve what they have.

Coyt A. Stookey, official Washington C.H. weather observer, measured onefourth of an inch of precipitation over a 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. Friday. Stookey said the mercury dipped to a chilly 16 degrees overnight. He recorded a high temperature of 27

Dry weather was expected to return to Ohio today, providing a change from Thursday's freezing rain in the central and south and snow in the north.

A fair-weather high pressure system was over Missouri this morning, headed toward Ohio. It was expected to move through the state tonight.

Temperatures were to remain on the cold side, averaging five to ten degrees below normal for early January. Readings this afternoon were expected to reach only the mid to upper 20s under partly cloudy skies with lows tonight dropping back in the teens. Skies should be clear tonight.

Looking ahead to the weekend, cloudiness will be increasing, but so will the temperatures. Highs Saturday were expected to rise above freezing for the first time in several days, reaching the 30s.

Snow, rain, sleet or fog slowed everyone's rounds today from the Gulf Coast to New England.

A major winter storm aimed at the Southwest and cold temperatures lingered in the midcontinent, dipping below zero as far south as the Texas Panhandle.

Rain, drizzle and a few thunderstorms struck Florida, the states along the Gulf and up through the Middle Atlantic region. Dense fog shrouded the central Gulf Coast, Georgia and the Carolinas.

Snow covered the northern and central Appalachians and freezing rain glazed trees, power lines and roads from West Virginia to the southern New England coast.

Six inches of snow fell on Bridgeport, Conn., and Chatham, Mass., was blanketed with four inches.

Cold rain swept central California and the storm was expected to move southward today into Southern California, where snow with hazardous driving conditions was expected in the mountains and deserts.

Clear but cold weather lingered in the Plains and Mississippi Valley. Some light snow drifted over northern Montana and Michigan.

Americans pessimistic

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) - A substantial majority of Americans are pessimistic about the nation's 1974 economy, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

The Nov. 30-Dec. 3 survey showed 85 per cent of those questioned predicted economic difficulties in 1974 and 84 per cent expected rising unemployment.

In a similar survey a year ago, 47 per cent forecast economic difficulty and 43 per cent expected more unemployment. In the latest survey, 1,550 adults across the nation were asked if they thought 1974 would be "a year of economic prosperity or a year of economic difficulties." Seven per cent expected prosperity, 85 per cent predicted difficulties and 8 per cent expressed no opinion. The percentage replies in the survey last year were: 40 prosperity, 47 difficulties, and 13 no opinion. Those interviewed were also asked if they expected 1974 to be "a year of full employment or a year of rising unemployment."

Eight per cent expected full employment and 84 per cent a rising jobless rate. Eight per cent had no

Last year 42 per cent forecast full employment, 43 per cent expected more unemployment and 15 per cent expressed no opinion.

Stock list turns mixed

NEW YORK (AP) - Stock market prices were mixed today, as Wall Street began worrying anew about the oil situation and the possibility of a severe recession later in the year, analysts said.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which gained 25 points Thursday, was down 6.77 to 873.92 at noon. But advances held an 8-to-5 lead over declines in heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange. The Big Board's composite index was off .41 to 52.80, however. On the American Stock Exchange, gainers led losers by a broad margin and the marketvalue index was up 1.02

Analysts said they doubted if the market could mount another rally similar to the one Thursday, which was sparked by a cut in margin requirements for stock purchases.

No tax windfall in Greene County

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - The Ohio Board of Tax Appeals ruled Thursday that Greene County school districts aren't entitled to windfall tax profits resulting from revaluation of county

The board dismissed an appeal by the Beavercreek Local School District and ordered the county auditor to reduce the county's tax levy by one mill.

The dispute over the county tax level has prevented Greene County from sending tax bills. The ruling also applies to 13 other Ohio counties which come under the same law, said board chairman Napoleon Bell.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service is trying to collect more than $800,000 in back taxes from indicted financier Robert L. Vesco.

The claim was disclosed when Vesco and his wife appealed the IRS verdict to the U.S. Tax Court. Vesco's tax troubles come on top of a long string of legal problems, including federal indictments for fraud, conspiracy and obstruction of justice.

IRS records filed with the court show that Vesco reported a taxable income of $111,712 for 1971 and paid $52,441 in taxes. But the IRS contends that the Vescos actually had a taxable income of more than $1.2 million and that they owe another $775,310 in taxes plus a penalty of $38,765.

The IRS attached the 5 per cent penalty because the agency "determined that part of the underpayment of tax ... is due to negligent and intentional disregard of rules and regu-

The Vescos denied the charges. The bulk of the IRS claim concerns payments allegedly made to Vesco by the International Controls Corp. He was former board chairman and chief executive officer of the firm and during 1971, he also became the chief officer of Investors Overseas Services Ltd., after ICC bought a substantial portion of the Geneva-based mutual fund.

The IRS claimed that Vesco failed to report a total of $1,001,350 in income received from ICC. IRS examiners told Vesco's representatives they were counting as income $830,729 for Vesco's personal use of an ICC-owned plane, and $170,621 in personal expenses paid by ICC, according to Tax Court Vesco told the court he used the jet only for business purposes and "at no time caused private aircraft to be flown to any destination at which a business activity was not the principal purpose for such flight.

The IRS also claims taxes on $63,757 in "unidentified deposits" in the Vescos' joint account at the American National Bank & Trust Co. in Morristown, N.J.

Vesco's lawyers replied, "To the best of petitioner's recollection and belief, none of the deposits made to said account represented unreported taxable

Former POW seeks seat in Senate

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Leo K. Thorsness, a retired Air Force officer who spent six years as a prisoner of the North Vietnamese, announced today he will run for the U.S. Senate in 1974.

Thorsness, 41, said he will enter the state's Republican primary in a bid for the Senate seat now held by Democrat George McGovern.

After his release from a Communist prisoner of war camp last March, Thorsness was highly critical of the antiwar stance of McGovern, the 1972

Democratic presidential candidate. Also bidding for the Republican nomination in the Senate race is Al Schock, a Sioux Falls businessman.

Thorsness, who was awarded the Medal of Honor for gallantry in action in Vietnam, retired from the Air Force as a lieutenant colonel Oct. 25. He is still recovering from back and leg injuries suffered when he ejected from a bomber over North Vietnam in April Thorsness was reared in Walnut Grove, Minn., and joined the Air Force in 1951. He and his wife, Gaylee, live in rural Sioux Falls. Their daughter, Dawn, 18, attends Stanford University.

Farm exports to remain high

WASHINGTON (AP)—Record farm exports are continuing to be the mainstay in Nixon administration strategy for putting U.S. trade with other countries on a sound footing for the first time in three years.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, who has vigorously opposed suggestions for curbing foreign deliveries of U.S. grain and other commodities, estimated Thursday that farm exports in calendar 1973 jumped to a record of about $17.4 billion.

That would be up approximately $8

Judge nixes dumping

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) - U.S. District Court here has denied a steel company's request to be let out of an agreement to stop dumping waste into the Ohio River.

Judge Timothy S. Hogan Thursday refused the request by the Empire-Detroit Steel Division of Cyclops Corp. involving its plant near Portsmouth.

The steel company said compliance with a 1972 agreement with the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) to stop discharging mill scale could force closure of the 2,000-man plant.

Judge Hogan set a hearing later this year after settlement of a related case in 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. The steel company said it has already spent $1.5 million on partial compliance and that it would lose $5-7 million if forced to comply totally.

Empire-Detroit contends mill scale is not a pollutant and challenges OR-SANCO's authority to order cessation of river pollution.

Seek recovery

of state cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Atty. Gen. William J. Brown has gone into Common Pleas Court here to recover $1,417 he says was not accounted for in the sale of a drug information booklet in suburban Worthington.

The suit was filed against the city's police chief, Paul Abbott, and Curt Gebhart, a promoter of the booklet.

The state auditor reported last June the money was not accounted for after the sale of the booklet billion from the previous high of $9.4 billion in 1972, Butz said in a statement. Most important, he said, last year's farm sales exceed agricultural imports by a wide margin.

Ph. 335-2570

'Agricultural exports for 11 months (of 1973) were $15.7 billion against agricultural imports of $7.6 billion," "Meanwhile, said. nonagricultural exports were $48.2 billion, compared with nonagricultural imports of $55.7 billion.

In November alone, the most recent month calculated, farm exports totaled more than $1.2 billion and offset deficits in nonagricultural exchange by about $300 million for the month, Butz said.

The statement by Butz and the figures on U.S. trade followed a report last week by the Commerce Department showing similar statistics. Asked why USDA seemed to be duplicating the earlier announcement, one department press officer said, "Commerce plays down agriculture, so we put out our own stuff."

The farm export figures also were on a calendar-year basis, despite a practice of also computing them on a fiscal year standard. Butz and others previously announced farm exports are expected to be about $19.3 billion for the year ending next June 30

Still another method used by USDA commodity experts is to compute exports, in the case of many items, on a crop-year basis. That varies in the case of wheat from a year beginning on July 1 to corn exports figured from Oct. 1.

Regardless of the technicalities, Butz has consistently heralded farm exports as a national economic advantage and uses each opportunity to give farmers a pat on the back. "American farmers, by virtue of their superior ability to produce, have marketed enough products to foreign customers this year (1973) to offset the value of all our imports of coffee, cocoa, bananas and other agricultural products, of all our petroleum imports for the year, plus a substantial balance to apply against other nonagricultural imports," he said.

The United States, which already produces a large share of world soybean supplies, and China, whose 800 million people represent a huge potential demand for soybeans, are well suited to this joint undertaking.

The ultimate benefit for the world's underdeveloped nations is incalculably great. Congress would do well to give the project its blessing without undue delay

Voluntary News Council enough

The House of Representatives adjourned without passing an energy bill. Maybe it's better that way: the common sense and ingenuity of the people should be able to combine fuelsaving measures with the discovery of new sources of heat and power without any legislative ukases.

The fewer laws, the better for

Our mania for new laws might have saddled us with a compulsory press code during the period in which Spiro Agnew was riding high. Fortunately, the agitation for mandatory disclosure of news sources died down before our Congress could get around to amending the First Amendment by a misguided legislative interference.

THE AGNEW ERA has left us with one legacy that looks to the fostering of a responsible press; it is a newly formed National News Council which, luckily, intends to operate on a voluntary basis.

The council is headed by Roger Traynor, former Chief Justice of the California Supreme Court, and it is already busy pushing a study of the threats to a free press posed, among other things, by judicial rulings in the lower courts. The study will take off from the recent Florida Supreme Court decision which would force the Miami Herald to give a sorehead political figure the right to equal space in replying to an editorial that appeared in its pages.

Britain, the country of Coke and Blackstone which bequeathed us its heritage of the Common Law, has, according to all reports, solved its problems of press fairness by trusting to a voluntary Press Council.

The secretary of the British Press Council, Noel S. Paul, recently passed through New York City on his way to Buffalo to address the Sigma Delta Chi society of prefessional journalists. Mr. Paul, a former features editor for the British Home County Newspapers, a chain of weeklies, was critical, in a polite and civilized way, of Our Yankee predilection for running to government for a compulsory settlement of our troubles.

THE EVEN-HANDED behavior of the British Press Council has led to clashes with government, but the council has been sustained in at least one important case by a government investigation of contempt of court procedure. Mr. Paul seemed impressed by the Washington-based Accuracy in Media, which is operated on a shoestring by Abe Kalish, whose small staff has picked up errors in news stories and columns without regard to questions of political affiliation. A voluntary press council in America could easily co-exist with such an organization as Accuracy in Media by agreeing to act as a board of review for its complaints.

By the same taken, freedom also includes the right to abstain. Newspapers that refuse to support the National News Council or any of our new regional press councils are quite within their rights.

In 1642, the mathematician who discovered the law of gravity, Sir Isaac Newton, was born in Lincolnshire, England. In 1896, Utah was admitted to the Union as the 45th state. In 1936, the Nazis ordered military training for the children of Germany. In 1944, in World War II, Allied forces launched an attack east of Cassino, In 1946, after the war, Gen. Douglas MacArthur invited 30 leading American educators to help set up a democratic school system in Japan. In 1948, Burma became an independent republic.

Ten years ago: Pope Paul VI arrived in Jerusalem to begin a tour of the Holy Land.

Five years ago: one year of liberal reform in Communist Czechoslovakia ended with a warning from the government against further dissent. One year ago: the United States reported the loss of the 16th B52 bomber in warfare in Southeast Asia

Today's birthdays: Opera singer Grace Bumbry is 37. Former heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson is 39. Former movie star Jane Wyman is 60.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov.22)

Your day to get ahead. An associate of importance will be surprisingly helpful when asked for advice. Romance favored, too.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) Some situations will be beyond your control now, so don't try to solve them on your own initiative. Ask advice from a trustworthy source. CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't let a.m. disappointments get you down. Good progress indicated during the hours after noon. Try to force the pace.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

A clash of temperaments could cause needless friction. Don't jeopardize a warm friendship by becoming overly emotional. PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Take a second look at your objectives—and recognize your limitations. You may be aiming too high for the present.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with fine business acumen, great practicality and a will power and determination so strong that you will stop at nothing to achieve set goals, which are usually very ambitious ones. There is a scholarly side to your nature, too, and you are quire likely to pursue an avocation which stimulates the intellect and requires serious study and research. When choosing a career, many fields are open to you, but you would probably be happiest in literature, science, diplomacy or teaching. Try to curb tendencies toward moodieness and undue suspicion of associates. All the fine things you could do can only be accomplished with a bright and optimistic approach.

to drop tracks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)-A division superintendent for the Penn Central Railroad says about 450 miles of track in the region are targeted for abandonment under provisions of a bill signed Wednesday by President Nixon. Larry Baggerly said the mileage is part of the 1,300 miles of track in the division, which includes most of Ohio, some of western Pennsylvania and most of West Virginia. He said it probably will be 14 months before any of the track is abandoned.

And even then, he said, local communities can keep the track if they agree to subsidize part of the loss.

Moses Slays the Idolators

And the children of Levi did according to the word of Moses: and there fell of the people that day about three thousand men.

Many were the torments Moses was to suffer after returning from Mount Sinai with the precious tables of stone on which God had written the Ten Commandments. First there was the unbearable sight of certain Israelites worshipping a golden calf which they had persuaded Aaron, their interim leader, to let them build-an impiety so heinous that Moses smashed the tables in rage-but there were the doings of Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron. These two had a following of idolators who, naked and lewd, were producing strange fire and other forms of devil worship. Incensed at this effrontery to the Lord, Moses called on the loyal Levites to destroy them all.

Mrs. Agnew back as housewife

WASHINGTON (AP) - Judy Agnew has returned to household chores after being one of the busiest official wives on the Washington social scene.

The wife of former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is "enjoying being a housewife, cooking for the family and overseeing the house," said Mrs. Agnew's secretary, Mary Dee Beall. Agnew resigned from office Oct. 10.

Mrs. Agnew, 52, married 31 years, with four children and two grandchildren, has always been a homebody. For the first time in years, she got into full gear at Christmas and cooked a turkey dinner for 17 relatives.

But the Agnew house is no ordinary - it cost $190,000 and is still surrounded by Secret Service guards.

Vary that meat loaf

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

If you are always on the lookout, as we are, for ways of varying that old standby, meat loaf, you may be interested in the following spanking-new and good recipe.

Instead of stirring minced or sauteed onion into the meat mixture as is usually done, this recipe calls for adding a layer of thin onion rings and one of pimientos between two layers of meat. The onion rings stay slightly crunchy and offer pleasing texture contrast. The pimientos offer additional flavor and attractive color.

When we tried this recipe, we served baked potatoes and a cooked green vegetable with it. But you might like to team it with baked beans and a crisp green salad.

> PIMIENTO-ONION MEAT LOAF

- 2 eggs
- 1-3rd cup milk 1 jar or can (4 ounces) pimiento
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 cups fresh bread crumbs
- 2 pounds ground chuck beef

1 medium-small onion, thinly sliced and separated into rings

Into a medium mixing bowl turn the eggs and milk. Drain and add the liquid from the pimientos; reserve pimientos. Add salt, pepper, mustard and Worcestershire. Beat to combine. Add bread crumbs; mix well. Add beef; with your hands, knead until blended.

Divide meat mixture in half. Press one half into an ungreased 8-inch square baking dish. Slit pimientos and open flat; arrange over meat mixture. Place onion rings over pimientos. Pat remaining half of meat over top.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 45 to 60 minutes. LEt stand about 10 minutes. Pour off liquid in baking dish. Cut into squares; remove with a wide spatula or server and serve at once.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: If you like, you may garnish the meat loaf with slices of pimiento and paper-thin onion rings.

The first telephone was installed in the white House by President Rutherford B. Hayes, who took office in 1877, the World Book Encyclopedia says. The installation was ordered after the President saw Alexander Graham Bell demonstrate his invention. President Hayes also ordered a telegraph installed.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT AP Television Writer

LONON (AP) - Because of the power crisis, British TV has ended each night's broadcasting at 10:30 p.m. since mid-December. The nation is surviving, but at least one viewer here is angry.

She's Mrs. A.M. Taylor of Droop Street, who, in an epistle to the Evening Standard, denounced the early TV shutdown and the end of "all floodlit football and greyhound racing.'

Those blackouts are to conserve power, she noted, "but other and more expensive evening entertainment, including the banqueting emporia, strip and other 'nite' spots are allowed to continue unabated although using large amounts of electricity.

"Yet another example of the Government's class distinction," she

Be that as it may, a vacationer here-to wit, me-had a lot of fun watching what remained on the powerstarved tube here over the Christmas holidays. Rowdy or restrained, it had

Even the capsule TV lists had style. I cite this one on "Jolson Sings Again," an ancient movie: "A sequel to that other film about the singer with the blacked-up face who spent a lot of time down on his knees going on about his mammy."

Alas, we missed that one, as well as a unique special, "Queen of Hearts." It starred a famous female impersonator named Danny La Rue in no less than 12 different and lavish gowns.

It may have been his last TV appearance as a madamoiselle in mufti. He recently announced he was "hanging up his bra" and going into legitimate acting. As he explained, "I don't want to be remembered only as the fella in a frock."

Still, in a week largely devoted to scientific tests of ale, we managed to see such other television sights as:

-Prime Minister Edward Heath, a good amateur musician, competently and joyfully conducting a Christmas chorale and orchestra.

-Six newscasters gathered together on London's commercial TV station to sing five minutes of Christmas carols and give no news whatsoever. -"The Stanley Baxter Big Picture Show," in which Baxter pilloried, among other things, an old Scotland Yard series. The villain, it seemed, killed his victim by making him watch the series. "Deliberately bored him to death," the inspector explained.

Good pasture and home grains help, but it still takes a good supplement to raise pigs economically today. The 35% protein in LANDMARK Sow & Pig. Supplement comes from several sources, to assure proper amino acid balance plus the right vitamins and minerals.

Feed it to brood sows and the baby pigs will have a built-in head start in life. It provides all essential growth elements for both sows and their litters during gestation and lactation. LANDMARK Sow & Pig Supplement is especially good for hogs in confinement. You'll like its economy; only 300 lbs. to 1,700 lbs. ground corn makes a 13% finishing ration. A New Holland man forfeited $200 bond on a charge of petty larceny when he failed to appear in Municipal Court

Thursday. Judge Reed M. Winegardner accepted the forfeiture from Lemuel Jester, 43, who had been charged by sheriff's deputies with stealing two hams from the trunk of a car.

Also forfeited bond Friday was Robert C. Carter, 55, of 818 Yeoman St., who failed to appear on two charges of disturbing the peace. He had been arrested by the police after a private warrant was filed. Bond on each charge

Fine imposed in drug case

Two Washington C.H. youth were scheduled to appear in Municipal Court Thursday on drug charges.

One requested an early hearing and pleaded guilty to four counts on Wednesday; the other was granted a continuance when his attorney was unable to make the trip here from Columbus.

Jon H. Alkire, 23, of 526 Pearl St., was fined a total of $800 and was given a suspended 18-month jail sentence by acting Municipal Judge John P. Case after he pleaded guilty to charges of possession of a hallucinogen, illegal possession of a hypodermic needle, illegal possession of a barbiturate and disturbing the peace.

The suspension of jail time is contingent upon his not violating any federal or state law for a period of two years and his cooperation with Marshall Boggs, probation officer, during that period.

The hearing for Raymond L. Clark, Jr., 24, of 914 John St., was continued until Jan. 10 after his lawyer called from Columbus to say that he was unable to be present for the hearing

The two were arrested Dec. 20 after drugs and hypodermic equipment were discovered in an automobile driven by Clark in which Alkire was a passenger. The vehicle was involved in an accident, and the drugs were found during the police investigation.

Jack Benny in tax trouble over donation

WASHINGTON (AP) - Comedian Jack Benny claims his donation of show-business memorabilia to the University of California at Los Angeles entitled him to a $156,000 federal tax deduction, but the Internal Revenue Service disagrees.

Instead, the tax men assert, Benny and his wife owe $109,081 in back taxes for 1967 and 1968.

Benny's lawyer, Lawrence S. Kartiganer of Beverly Hills, Calif., said Thursday the claimed deduction for the charitable contribution is similar to the one President Nixon took for donating his vice presidential papers to the National Archives. Nixon's claim was accepted.

Kartiganer has filed an appeal of the IRS decision on Benny's behalf in U.S. Tax Court.

The year 1973 was one of good economy in Fayette County and Washington C.H., Richard E. Whiteside, president of the Washington Savings Bank, told shareholders at their annual meeting Thursday.

Citing the "fairly favorable crop yields with the best commodity prices in the history of agriculture" as the key to the thriving condition, Whiteside stated that the growth of the bank was also tied to the farmer of the area.

The bank increased its assets from 23 1-3rd million dollars to 31 1-3rd million dollars during the year. This is the largest growth ever, Whiteside said.

He observed that 1974 appears to be a year of leveling off and the prfits of the farmer will probably not be as great. "However, worldwide markets may cause a continuing demand for our products, and we could experience another great year for our farmers,' Whiteside continued.

Re-elected to the board of directors were A.H. Finley, Herbert C. Hoppes, Ralph K. Child, R.E. Whiteside, Ralph Theobald, Ronald Cornwell, Paul F. Rodenfels, Howard Wright and C. Glenn McCoy.

At the reorganization meeting which followed the annual meeting, Finley was elected chairman; Whiteside,

WCH vs Hillsboro top game Friday; meet Cavs Saturday

By DENNIS STAPLETON

Record-Herald Sports Editor The Washington C.H. basketball team is involved in a double-header this weekend as Hillsboro invades the Lions hardwood Friday and the Blue Lions travel to Chillicothe Saturday night. Both games will begin at 8:00.

When the pesky Indians go on the warpath Friday, Washington C.H. will be searching for it's fifth South Central Ohio League victory against one loss. Prior to last week's heart breaking 51-50 loss to Miami Trace the red hot Lions had been victorious seven games in succession. But when a team possesses so much spirit as the Lions, the winning trail shouldn't be hard to get back on.

Currently the Indians have a 3-2 SCOL record made up of losses to Miami Trace and Greenfield and wins

WCH game cancelled

The Washington C.H. and Hillsboro basketball game originally scheduled for tonight has been cancelled due to hazardous road conditions according to Bob Bane WSHS athletic director.

The game has been rescheduled for Tuesday Jan. 15 at Washington senior high school. Starting time for the reserve game will be 6 p.m. instead of the usual 6:30.

over Circleville, Wilmington and Madison Plains. Last week's 53-47 win over Circleville should have left Hillsboro in high spirits for it's sixth SCOL game of the season.

Hillsboro holds the best offensive average-66.0 points-and is the third best defensive team allowing 63.3 points to be scored. The Blue Lions are the second stingiest team in the SCOL allowing only 57.6 points every four quarters while scoring at a neat 62.7

Kevin Bailey, leading scorer in the SCOL with a 19.0 point average, is the main spark of the Indians. The 5-foot-9 senior guard has high games of 27 and 26 points this season. Both against SCOL teams. The crackerjack guard also plays excellent defense and rebounds with authority. Complimenting Bailey is Dave Larimer. The spunky forward averages 11.4 points along with eight rebounds per game. Rounding out the remaining starters should be Mike Vance at guard, Mike Sharkey at forward and

LEADING SCORERS

(All Games)

Bailey, Hils.

Roger Jewett at the pivot. Jewett stands only 6-foot-1 but has good jumping ability and a good knowledge of the game. Sixth man for the Indians will be Lawrence Turner. Turner was a starter earlier this season but plays better coming off the bench.

The Blue Lions will run the same line-up that was used against Miami Trace. Doug Boswell and Garth Cox trading places throughout the game at center, Chuck Byrd and slick ball handling Craig Shaffer at the guards and Kenny Knisley and third leading scorer in the SCOL Doug Phillips at the forward

Saturday night the Lions face a tough Central Ohio League opponent in Chillicothe.

Chillicothe has a record of 7-1 losing only to South Point 71-68. The Cavaliers played Miami Trace earlier in the season and humiliated the Panthers 99-64. Chillicothe has a tenacious fast break and a demoralizing diamond press. Six-foot-2 All-State candidate Mark Bayless leads the Cavaliers in their attack. The gifted guard is the fifth leading scorer in Chillicothe high school history and is currently averaging 21.5 points. Bayless has been out in previous games suffering from a wrist injury. But the talented star might see action against Newark Friday and against the Blue Lions Saturday. Rounding out the starting five for the Cavaliers should be Mike Ratzlaff, Jim Gause, Kevin Blevins and Terry Richardson. Rex Blake should fill in for Bayless if the whiz kid doesn't

Other SCOL action this weekend finds Greenfield at Wilmington Friday night, Miami Trace travelling to Madison Plains Friday, Circleville at Westfall Saturday and Miami Trace venturing to London Saturday. Tuesday night play has Madison Plains at Southeastern and Hillsboro hosting Blanchester.

Baseball to cut use of energy

league baseball, along with other sports and recreational organizations, is making plans to reduce energy consumption up to 25 per cent - but success will depend on the fans.

Representatives of some 30 associations met for an hour Thursday with Federal Energy Office officials to discuss measures they could adopt to conserve energy in their operations.

Baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn submitted a general outline for a comprehensive energy conservation plan developed for the major leagues for this year's season which he said would result in a 25 per cent saving

Kuhn told newsmen after the meeting that baseball, which flew on chartered flights 60 per cent of the time during last season, will reduce charter flights by one-half or more.

'This will be done by using regularly scheduled flights whenever possible,

Kuhn also said baseball expects to eliminate or substantially curtail the use of electrical power for illuminating night games, 20 per cent of which occurs before the game begins.

"We will endeavor to start night games at times which will present the least problem taking into consideration local utility peak load factors," he said.

The commissioner said that batting practice before games will not be eliminated but that it would be taken prior to a game when there is sufficient light to do so.

Kuhn said baseball had not considered playing all day games because "that would cause a substantial change in the game." He also said the 1974 schedule of 162 games would not be reduced to 154 games.

He also said he did not believe it was realistic to realign the American and

WASHINGTON (AP) - Major National Leagues in 1974 and 1975 to reduce travel.

Kuhn said baseball will encourage fans to use public transit and car pools to get to ball parks.

John C. Sawhill, deputy administrator for the Federal Energy Office, said most of the other associations at the meeting agreed to try to reduce energy consumption although only baseball offered a general outline of what it intends to do.

"We don't want to reduce participation in sports, or reduce sports itself, but we want to use the energy more efficiently," he said. Sawhill said the major recommendation coming out of the meeting was that fans use public transportation and car pools to attend sports events.

Arizona bombs Wyoming, 93-77

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Wild, Wild West opened a new season Thursday night - and the star of the show was Coneil "Popcorn" Norman.

"It's always a big win for us in Laramie," said Arizona Coach Fred Snowden after enjoying Norman's dramatic, 26-point performance in a 93-77 Western Athletic Conference victory over Wyoming.

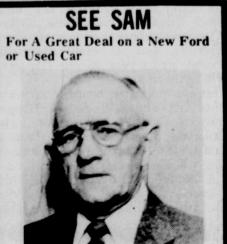

Norman thrived in the role of the leading man - helping the 15th-ranked Wildcats run off 10 straight points midway through the second half that pulled the curtain down on Wyoming.

The Arizona coach hopes for a rerun in Saturday's game against Colorado State, no doubt another shootout in the wide-open conference.

In other games involving the nation's ranked teams, No. 9 Long Beach State crushed Los Angeles State 93-76; No. 18 Memphis State tripped Bradley 88-76 in overtime and Southern Mississippi upset No. 20 Austin Peay in a consolation game of the Senior Bowl basketball tournament in Mobile, Alabama. Incidentally, South Alabama won the tournament with a 74-64 upset of Missouri in the finals

Clifton Pondexter scored 20 to pace Long Beach over Los Angeles State. Pondexter, a 6-foot-8 freshman center, collected seven rebounds and connected on 9-of-14 field goal attempts as the 49ers won their 10th game in 11

Williams will sue Finley

RIVIERA BEACH, Fla. (AP) - I'm not concerned about Dick Following the hiring of Bill Virdon as manager of the New York Yankees, Dick Williams says he now plans a court battle against the man who kept him from getting the job.

Williams, who quit as manager of the Oakland A's to accept the Yankee position, said Thursday he will take Oakland owner Charlie Finley to court.

"Whether the Yankee job will become available as a result of my counter-attack against Finley, I really can't say. But I'm not done yet," Williams said from his Riviera Beach

Williams said the annoucement of Virdon's hiring had not taken him by surprise

"I've known of the possibility of them hiring Bill for a few days now," he said. "They couldn't wait any longer."

Williams, who quit as Oakland manager after guiding them to their second straight World Series championship, said under no circumstances would he report to the A's spring camp next month

William's had signed with the Yankees, but that contract was voided outgoing American League President Joe Cronin after Finley filed a federal court suit to force Williams to honor the two remaining years on his Oakland contract.

"As far as I'm concerned," said Virdon, "I'm the manager of the New York Yankees and I like it that way.

Williams."

Virdon, ex-skipper of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was named to the Yankee job Thursday, ending the three-month tug of war that the New York club had been waging with Oakland owner Charles O. Finley over Williams.

Last month, Virdon signed a contract to manage Houston's Denver farm club in the Pacific Coast League. Does that mean the Yankees have inherited another Williams-type contract hassle? Virdon laughed at the suggestion.

"No, no," he said. "I had a stipulation in the Denver contract that if I were offered a major league job, I would be free to go.'

That offer came earlier this week from the Yankees, who had run into a dead end in their negotiations with Finley aimed at trying to get the A's boss to release Williams from the last two years of his managing contract.

The Yankees had tried to force the issue a few weeks ago when they signed Williams to a three-year contract. But outgoing American League President Joe Cronin nixed that deal, sending the Yankees back to Finley to try to satisfy the Oakland boss, who kept insisting on a couple of top prospects in return for Williams.

"Charley wanted too much," said George M. Steinbrenner, general partner of the Yankees. That was when the club turned to Virdon

"He's a winner and that's the kind of man we wanted," said Steinbrenner.

Bidding Quiz

You are South and have the following hand:

♠ AQ95 ♥ AKJ83 ♠ K72 ♣ 10

1. East bids One Club, which you double, and North's response is One Spade. What would you bid now?

2. West bids One Club, which East raises to Two Clubs, and you double for takeout. Your partner's response is Two Hearts. What would you bid now?

3. Your partner bids One Notrump. When you respond Three Hearts, he raises to Four Hearts. What would you bid now?

1. Three Spades. Partner's spade bid, aside from showing four or more spades, does not designate his highcard strength and, in fact, he may not have a point. However, it is a fairly good rule of thumb to assume he has 3 or 4 points and proceed accordingly. By raising North to three, you cover the case where he has a practically worthless hand, and at the same time apprize him that there is a game if he has almost anything at all. You can't safely bid four all by yourself, for you need a little something from partner for him to come home with ten tricks. 2. Three hearts. Again all you can do is invite partner to bid game. Three hearts in this sequence is a very strong call, and partner is expected to press on with extremely modest values.

It would be quite wrong to bid four hearts. Remember that, unlike the previous example, the opening bid is on your left, so you can expect the cards to lie rather badly.

3. Four spades. You can't stop short of a small slam - you and partner have at least 33 high-card points - so all your efforts should be bent on trying to get to seven. It would be wrong to use Blackwood, because partner's response wouldn't tell you whether he had the king of spades and queen of hearts - two very vital cards - even if he showed two aces and a king.

Hands where intermediate cards are highly crucial are better handled by cuebids than by Blackwood. By permitting partner to evalute his hand, you can often produce better results than by using Blackwood and making partner an automaton who does no more than tell you how many aces and kings he has.

He Has Noises in His Head

I have noises in my head which are just driving me crazy. With all the scientific advancement against cancer and other diseases it's hard to believe that such a simple but pesty problem cannot be solved.

Mr. C.L., N.C. Dear Mr. L.: Only those people who have ever had persistent noise in the head can appreciate the annoyance of this con-

The problem of tracking down the cause of ear and head noises is not simple because the causes of noise (or "tinnitus") are so varied.

These sounds may be caused by wax in the ears, low-grade infections of the eardrums or middle-ear infection. Changes in the Eustachian tube, problems with the blood supply to the inner ear, and injury to the hearing mechanism may also be responsible.

Noises may even be the result of

In Focus by Charlie Pensyl What is it that makes one photographer better than the next one? No doubt there are many factors. Let's kick a few of them around. Motivation to excel is a trait not possessed by everyone, but without this trait the lensman will be run-of-the-mill. The same could be said for a linebacker, a salesman, or a dentist. So let's assume motivation is there. First, it would seem, this lensman should learn his camera. A good place to start is at the instruction book. Use the camera! Find out just what the camera will do. Most cameras are capable of far more than the user demands of it. Too many cameramen get the idea that "one more gadget" will make him a photographer. No gadget is going to make a photographer out of anybody! Study and practice, yes, but not another gadget. It has been said that approbation is the motivating factor. I guess that's true. If you have a young person you wish to help in photography give him encouragement, occasional praise; that will help him more than buying him another photo gadget. Of course, if you still want to buy him a gadget, we have them to sell. It has also been said that there is a direct correlation between the greatness of the photographer and the use he makes of his wastebasket. Throw away the stuff that's not up to your standard. That's a good point. And use care in selecting the lab to do your processing. Your film should always be processed by the company that made the film. That's most important.  allergy and individual sensitivity to drugs or tabacco. For example, quinine taken in large quantities can cause irritating head noises. Certain types of deafness, Meniere's disease, migraine or malformations of the blood vessels may be the underlying cause. All of these possible causes must be eliminated before any form of treatment is started. Patients with head noises need a great deal of emotional support and assurance to tide them over the investigating period.

Is warm climate beneficial for arthritis and rheumatism? I hesitate to make a drastic move, but I would if thought I could be helped.

Mr. L.D.B., Mich.

Dear Mr. B.: It is generally believed that patients with such chronic conditions seem to feel more comfortable in a warm, dry climate. Yet many people who have precipitously uprooted themselves have been disappointed by a change in geography.

It is wise, therefore, for anyone who is contemplating moving to a new climate to try it for a reasonable length of time in all seasons before giving up one's home and business

It can be psychologically distressing and very expensive to come to the realization that climate alone is not the total answer to such a medical problem.

Three indicted by grand jury

The nine members of the Fayette County winter term grand jury returned indictments against three persons Thursday. All three were charged with grand larceny in connection with two separate incidents.

After hearing evidence presented by Assistant Fayette County Prosecutor Robert Simpson and being instructed by Judge Evelyn W. Coffman as to the legal definitions and elements of the alleged crimes, the jury returned indictments against James L. Sheldon, 44, and Glenn Sheldon Jr., 50, of Sabina, and Charles L. The Sheldons are charged in connection with the theft of carpeting from Redman Industries, and Wilson is charged with the theft of a wallet from a local tavern employe.

Arraignments for all three were set for Wednesday, and they will be asked to enter a plea at that time.

The courtroom activity for the year was begun Thursday after the Rev. Robert Cline of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, gave the invocation, and Bailiff R.B. (Bud) Tharp led the "Pledge of Allegiance."

On the jury were Mildred Kingery, Ethel Henry, Jessie Shepard, Velma Coates, Paul Jones, Mary Lou Ralston, Marian Moore, Steve Waddell and Mary Ella Boswell.

The jury also inspected the Fayette County Jail, which was found satisfactory.

Expect Dayan to make pullback offer

Israeli concessions seen

WASHINGTON (AP) - Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan is expected to offer a withdrawal from the Suez Canal and to seek reassurances that it will be opened to Israeli shipping when he meets with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

After today's meeting with Kissinger, Dayan will ask the Pentagon for new jets, antitank missiles and other sophisticated weapons. U.S. officials are convinced that enough of his requests will be met eventually to upgrade Israel's forces above pre-October War levels.

Dayan's visit could mark a turning point in the Geneva negotiations from generally conceptual discussions to concrete give-and-take. "It has always been understood that after the Israeli elections the talks might accelerate," Kissinger told a news conference Thursday in San Clemente, Calif.

The secretary flew to Washington Thursday night, arriving on a commercial jet a few hours before Dayan came in on an overseas flight. They planned to meet at the State Department at noon, continue their talks at lunch, and then break off in late afternoon for Dayan to call on Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger.

Even a proposal for a unilateral and sizable Israeli pullback would not surprise Kissinger and his aides since all parties to the Middle East negotiations anticipate more than a simple separation of Israeli and Egyptian

The question is whether Dayan will be able to go home with a solid expectation that Egypt will be prepared to permit Israeli ships and those of

Nixon signs bill boosting benefits

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) -Larger checks are in store for millions of Social Security recipients April 3 and again July 3 as the result of an 11 per cent benefit boost signed into law by President Nixon. Under legislation signed by Nixon on Thursday, average monthly benefits for an individual will rise from $161 to $181, while those for a couple will jump from $276 to $310. The increases will take place in two steps, with a 7 per cent increase taking effect with March checks distributed

April 3 and the other 4 per cent reflected in June checks delivered July 3. To help finance the increases, the law imposes a higher earnings level at which Social Security taxes will be deducted from workers' paychecks. The earnings subject to taxes will be $13,200 this year, up from the $12,600 base planned before the new law was

Although there is no change in the 5.85 per cent tax rate imposed on workers and their employers, the maximum tax to be collected annually from each will rise from $631.80 in 1973 to $772.20 this year because of the higher wage base.

The new law raises minimum Social Security benefits from $84.50 to $93.80 and increases the maximum from $411 to $456 for a couple.

"With these increases, Social Security benefits will have risen by 68.5 per cent since this administration took office nearly five years ago," Nixon noted in signing the measure.

Maariv, an Israeli newspaper, said Dayan would propose that sort of buffer as well as insist that an Egyptian police force replace the 2nd and 3rd armies on the eastern bank. The paper also said he would offer to withdraw to the Mitla and Giddi passes, about 30 miles from the waterway.

Station closings on Saturdays ruled out now

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Office has decided against seeking Saturday closings of gasoline stations as a way to cut fuel consumption further.

"It is definitely out," an energy office spokesman said. "Saturday closings would just wreck recreation outlets in the country, and it's a big business."

Federal energy chief William E. Simon had said as late as a week ago that the Saturday-closing move was under serious consideration. Now, he feels the measure is not needed to deal with the gasoline shortage.

The energy office has already asked the nation's 225,000 gasoline stations to close on Sundays to discourage consumption. A high percentage have daily in the last three months. complied. Simon said the Sundayclosing request will become mandatory if he gets the power from Congress.

moves, Simon said after a news con-As for the government's conservation ference Thursday: "We feel we've go everything in place necessary to lick this problem.

During the news conference, he and other energy officials said the response from the public on government conservation measures has given new hope that gasoline rationing can be avoided. A high energy official said later, however, that the key test will come this month as gasoline production is

Simon said major oil companies have agreed to encourage the voluntary 10gallon-per-customer limit on service stations sales. Company-owned stations will enforce that limit, he said. He said that gasoline consumption continued to decline in December, but added the savings fell far short of the 20 per cent reduction considered necessary

On Feb. 1, he said, the energy office will announce another gasoline price increase to compensate service stations for their loss of sales volume because of the fuel shortage.

By March 1, he said, gasoline prices nationwide will average 8 to 11 cents per gallon higher than the level prevailing in December. The increased cost of foreign oil is a major reason for the expected rise.

Henry A. Kissinger said President Nixon is preparing personal initiatives to try to solve the energy crisis, but said details wouldn't be disclosed until next week.

Kissinger called the Arab embargo "increasingly less appropriate" and said Nixon's moves would seek to build cooperation between the oil-producing and oil-consuming nations. The cutoff was initiated in late October after the Mideast war broke out.

Meantime, military sources said the Pentagon has asked the White House and the energy office for an increased fuel allocation of between 10 and 15 per cent. The Pentagon has used an average of about 62,500 barrels of oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate moved up from 4.7 per cent to 4.9 per cent of the work force in December, marking the second consecutive monthly increase since the beginning of the energy crisis, the government reported today.

The increase apparently was due to the general slowdown of the economy but analysts for the Bureau of Labor Statistics said they lacked complete information to determine the effect of the fuel shortage on the jobless rate.

Administration officials had said previously the impact would be felt in December and even more sharply during the first three months of this

President Nixon's chief economic adviser. Herbert Stein, has forecast a jobless rate reaching about 6 per cent later this year as the full effects of the energy crisis impact on the economy. According to the Labor Department report the number of people out of work increased by 170,000 last month to a total of 4.4 million. This followed an increase of 200,000 in the jobless rate in November.

Regula to run again

NAVARRE, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Rep. Ralph Regula, R-Ohio, says he'll run In San Clemente, Secretary of State for re-election this year.

Daylight time due Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) - Year-round daylight saving time will go into effect in almost all parts of the United States Sunday as part of President Nixon's energy-conservation program.

It will be the first time the nation has been on year-round daylight time since World War II.

All but two states - Indiana and Hawaii - apparently will set their clocks ahead one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday, although four other states have applied for exemptions and other parts of the nation could be exempted by state legislation.

Indiana has passed legislation in the past exempting it from daylight time, and the state was excluded from the new bill. Hawaii was exempted because of its location near the Equator, where there is little seasonal variation in the number of daylight

Under the legislation, President Nixon — or his designated representative - can exempt any state from daylight time if the state's governor can show the time change would work undue hardship or that remaining on standard time during the winter months would save more fuel.

Arizona, Oregon and Kentucky have applied for exemptions, according to the Uniform Time Office, and Idaho has requested that its area under mountain time be exempted.

All four requests are under advisement, the office says, and Transportation Secretary Claude Brinegar was to make a ruling as the President's representative late today.

The nation will remain on daylight time through October 1975, unless Congress decides to change the law.

The switch to daylight time has been touted by the White House as an energy-saver, although many supporters of the bill acknowledge they are unsure what effect, if any, the measure will have on the energy crisi

The White House has claimed that shifting an hour of daylight from the morning to the evening hours could cut back electricity and heating demands by as much as three per cent, particularly in the northern regions of the country. This could mean a savings equivalent to 150,000 barrels of oil a day, the administration has said.

It says people would not need to turn on their lights as early at night if daylight savings time was in effect.

Numerous injuries were related to the icy conditions. Among the more

Baby abducted only hours after brother had died

NORTH LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) -Federal kidnaping charges have been filed against a teen-aged babysitter who allegedly abducted a 15-month-old boy less than 24 hours after his brother died of viral pneumonia.

disappeared along with the babysitter, identified as Sharon Lee Banchereau,

Mrs. Lawrence, 28, lost her first child several years ago only a day after birth. Timmie, who died Sunday, was her second child. A third pregnancy was terminated after five months.

"John is the first full-term and healthy baby we've had," she said. Charles Dulinsky, assistant special agent in charge of the Las Vegas FBI office, said federal kidnaping charges were filed Thursday. Detective Patrick Dingle of the North Las Vegas police, in charge of the investigation, said Miss Banchereau and the baby were sighted New Year's Day at Phoenix, Ariz.

"Now we're pursuing her southward. She apparently hitchhiked out of town Monday, probably en route to Texas,' Dingle said.

Mrs. Lawrence and her husband, Stanley, 40, a concrete worker, left John with Miss Banchereau Monday while they went to a doctor to ask whether John might contract the same disease that claimed the life of his brother.

When they returned the babysitter and their child were gone.

"I don't know. Right now I've got doubt in my mind," said Mrs. Lawrence. "I don't want to have doubts. I hope and pray she has good intentions.

Saxbe takes cabinet post today The rule applied to White House us to try to have to say that so-and-so

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Bart Saxbe, blunt-spoken veteran of Ohio Republican politics, takes over the Justice Department as the nation's 70th attorney general today.

He is convinced, despite recent efforts to the contrary, that politics has a place in the government's chief law enforcement arm.

Saxbe is equally convinced that he and his close associates will be immune from improper political pressures. He says there is no need for the steps his predecessor designed to prove the truth of that immunity to the public.

After five years in the Senate, Saxbe officially gave up his seat Thursday in preparing for his late-afternoon swearingin ceremony in the department's Great Hall. The oath will be administered by an Ohio colleague, former state Supreme Court Judge Robert M. Duncan, now a judge on the U.S. Court of Military Appeals.

Some 300 Ohio friends and dozens of government officials planned to attend but neither President Nixon nor Vice President Gerald R. Ford said they expected to be there.

Saxbe becomes Nixon's fourth attorney general and brings the department a set of goals somewhat different from those of Elliot L. Richardson, who resigned Oct. 20 rather than obey Nixon's order to fire Archibald Cox as special Watergate prosecutor.

The thrust of Richardson's five months in office was an effort to take politics out of the department.

Saxbe said in an interview he will at least modify an order Richardson considered a key element of that drive. The order required department officials to keep written records of their contacts with outsiders expressing views on specific cases.

Meshel, D-33 Harry Youngstown, introduced the measure Thursday as state lawmakers ended their first 1974 work week and closed shop until 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The regents have been under the scrutiny of many individual legislators in recent weeks in the wake of a Gilligan Administration task force recommendation that would scrap plans for two new medical schools in Dayton and northeast Ohio. Meshel made no mention of the med schools, but he said "too often, there are great chasms developed between the wishes of the legislature and the actions of the various boards and commissions of both state and local governments.

Deaths, Laos sells rice, seeks U. S. help

WASHINGTON (AP) - Laotian peasants are selling their first good rice crop in years and then turning to the United States for emergency aid when they run out of food, American officials say.

Sources in the Agency for International Development (AID), say the situation could cost the United States hundreds of thousands of

For years Laos has had a severe rice shortage and AID has supplied food to as many as 379,000 peasants a year.

The past year the crop was excellent and resulted in a drop to 161,000 in the number of Laotians receiving the American food.

The aid amounts to about 17 pounds of rice a month to each person, plus 15 pounds of protein food.

However, many of the peasants who have gone off the program have ignored advice by American experts and are not storing the surplus for seed and future consumption, officials say.

Instead, they are keeping just enough to eat for the next few months and are selling the rest.

American policy is to provide food to Laotians until they become selfsufficient. For many years, the crops have been so poor that few people could ever grow enough to feed themselves.

But the past crop was bountiful and AID discontinued rice shipments for 218,000 peasants, telling them they were on their own unless a natural disaster cut their food supplies.

That the U.S. advice to store the surplus rice was rejected is no surprise, the American sources say. The peasants not only have been hungry, they have been poor. U.S. officials say it is understandable that they would take a rare chance to pick up some

There is little that can be done to stop the selling, the officials say. The only direct punishment is to refuse aid to peasants who ask for food after having sold their own harvest. Officials say it is difficult to prove that such peasants have sold their extra

And even if that could be done there are humanitarian and political reasons to give the aid, the officials concede.

'How can you tell some farmer he and his family must go hungry because they tried to make a little pocket money for once in their life," one source said.

Further, Democratic Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts has been critical of the American aid program in Southeast Asia, charging the administration often has not given sufficient help to refugees in the area.

To take a hard-nosed attitude on the rice aid would only give new ammunition to Kennedy, the AID sources acknowledge.

Officials feel, the only apparent course of action is to give aid when necessary, hope for another bumper crop and continue to encourage the peasants to conserve what they have.

U. S. air defense said hurt by shortage of jet fuel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of continental air defense in recent years. the fuel pinch, Air National Guard pilots assigned to defend the United States against possible bomber attacks are allowed to fly only when ordered aloft to investigate suspicious planes, a Guard source says.

"They fly only on a direct scramble order from the North American Air Defense Command," the source said Thursday.

The pilots are barred from practicing their aerial skills, including important instrument and night flying, when they are not on runway alert even though their squadrons have been given a first line mission, the source said.

It is this ban on proficiency flying that has prompted military officials to warn that reserve pilots of all the armed services will lose their edge and national security will suffer unless it is

The Fisher Body plant produces car bodies for GM. The parent auto manufacturer has been hit by a slump in large car sales because of the energy shortage.

Wallis said GM assembly plants are reducing production because of the slump. For 370 of the workers, the layoff will be a two-week furlough, Wallis said, with jobs opening again when GM resumes production.

A chance of snow or rain is forecast Sunday and Monday, followed by clearing Tuesday. Highs will be in the 30s or low 40s Sunday and Monday, then drop to the 20s Tuesday. Lows will be in the upper 20s and low 30s Sunday and Monday, but will fall into the teens

The weather

Thursday morning. Salting operations were continuing today.

Salt was at a premium in the downtown Washington C.H. area with most of the hardware stores reporting sellouts.

Coyt A. Stookey, official Washington C.H. weather observer, measured onefourth of an inch of precipitation over a 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. Friday. Stookey said the mercury dipped to a chilly 16 degrees overnight. He recorded a high temperature of 27

Dry weather was expected to return to Ohio today, providing a change from Thursday's freezing rain in the central and south and snow in the north.

A fair-weather high pressure system was over Missouri this morning, headed toward Ohio. It was expected to move through the state tonight.

Temperatures were to remain on the cold side, averaging five to ten degrees below normal for early January. Readings this afternoon were expected to reach only the mid to upper 20s under partly cloudy skies with lows tonight dropping back in the teens. Skies should be clear tonight.

Looking ahead to the weekend, cloudiness will be increasing, but so will the temperatures. Highs Saturday were expected to rise above freezing for the first time in several days, reaching the 30s.

Snow, rain, sleet or fog slowed everyone's rounds today from the Gulf Coast to New England.

A major winter storm aimed at the Southwest and cold temperatures lingered in the midcontinent, dipping below zero as far south as the Texas Panhandle.

Rain, drizzle and a few thunderstorms struck Florida, the states along the Gulf and up through the Middle Atlantic region. Dense fog shrouded the central Gulf Coast,

Georgia and the Carolinas Snow covered the northern and central Appalachians and freezing rain glazed trees, power lines and roads from West Virginia to the southern New England coast. Six inches of snow fell on Bridgeport, Conn., and Chatham, Mass., was blanketed with four inches.

Cold rain swept central California and the storm was expected to move southward today into Southern California, where snow with hazardous driving conditions was expected in the mountains and deserts.

Clear but cold weather lingered in the Plains and Mississippi Valley. Some light snow drifted over northern Montana and Michigan.

Americans pessimistic

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) - A substantial majority of Americans are pessimistic about the nation's 1974 economy, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

The Nov. 30-Dec. 3 survey showed 85 per cent of those questioned predicted economic difficulties in 1974 and 84 per cent expected rising unemployment.

In a similar survey a year ago, 47 per cent forecast economic difficulty and 43 per cent expected more unemployment.

In the latest survey, 1,550 adults across the nation were asked if they thought 1974 would be "a year of economic prosperity or a year of economic difficulties."

Seven per cent expected prosperity, 85 per cent predicted difficulties and 8 per cent expressed no opinion. The percentage replies in the survey last year were: 40 prosperity, 47 difficulties, and 13 no opinion.

Those interviewed were also asked if they expected 1974 to be "a year of full employment or a year of rising unemployment.'

Eight per cent expected full employment and 84 per cent a rising jobless rate. Eight per cent had no

Last year 42 per cent forecast full employment, 43 per cent expected more unemployment and 15 per cent expressed no opinion.

Stock list turns mixed

NEW YORK (AP) - Stock market prices were mixed today, as Wall Street began worrying anew about the oil situation and the possibility of a severe recession later in the year, analysts said.

The Dow Jones industrial average. which gained 25 points Thursday, was down 6.77 to 873.92 at noon. But advances held an 8-to-5 lead over declines in heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange. The Big Board's composite index was off .41 to 52.80, On the American Stock Exchange.

gainers led losers by a broad margin and the marketvalue index was up 1.02 to 94.80.

Analysts said they doubted if the market could mount another rally similar to the one Thursday, which was sparked by a cut in margin requirements for stock purchases.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Board of Tax Appeals ruled Thursday that Greene County school districts aren't entitled to windfall tax profits resulting from revaluation of county

The board dismissed an appeal by the Beavercreek Local School District and ordered the county auditor to reduce the county's tax levy by one mill.

The dispute over the county tax level has prevented Greene County from sending tax bills. The ruling also applies to 13 other Ohio counties which come under the same law, said board chairman Napoleon Bell.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service is trying to collect more than $800,000 in back taxes from indicted financier Robert L. Vesco.

The claim was disclosed when Vesco and his wife appealed the IRS verdict to the U.S. Tax Court. Vesco's tax troubles come on top of a long string of legal problems, including federal indictments for fraud, conspiracy and obstruction of justice.

IRS records filed with the court show that Vesco reported a taxable income of $111,712 for 1971 and paid $52,441 in taxes. But the IRS contends that the Vescos actually had a taxable income of more than $1.2 million and that they owe another $775,310 in taxes plus a penalty of $38,765.

The IRS attached the 5 per cent penalty because the agency "determined that part of the underpayment of tax ... is due to negligent and intentional disregard of rules and regulations.

The Vescos denied the charges.

The bulk of the IRS claim concerns payments allegedly made to Vesco by the International Controls Corp. He was former board chairman and chief executive officer of the firm and during 1971, he also became the chief officer of Investors Overseas Services Ltd., after ICC bought a substantial portion of the Geneva-based mutual fund.

The IRS claimed that Vesco failed to report a total of $1,001,350 in income received from ICC. IRS examiners told Vesco's representatives they were counting as income $830,729 for Vesco's personal use of an ICC-owned plane, and $170,621 in personal expenses paid by ICC, according to Tax Court

Vesco told the court he used the jet only for business purposes and "at no time caused private aircraft to be flown to any destination at which a business activity was not the principal purpose for such flight.'

The IRS also claims taxes on $63,757 in "unidentified deposits" in the Vescos' joint account at the American National Bank & Trust Co. in Morristown, N.J.

Vesco's lawyers replied, "To the best of petitioner's recollection and belief, none of the deposits made to said account represented unreported taxable income....'

Former POW seeks seat in Senate

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Leo K. Thorsness, a retired Air Force officer who spent six years as a prisoner of the North Vietnamese, announced today he will run for the U.S. Senate in 1974.

Thorsness, 41, said he will enter the state's Republican primary in a bid for the Senate seat now held by Democrat George McGovern.

After his release from a Communist prisoner of war camp last March, Thorsness was highly critical of the antiwar stance of McGovern, the 1972 Democratic presidential candidate.

Also bidding for the Republican nomination in the Senate race is Al Schock, a Sioux Falls businessman.

Thorsness, who was awarded the Medal of Honor for gallantry in action in Vietnam, retired from the Air Force as a lieutenant colonel Oct. 25. He is still recovering from back and leg injuries suffered when he ejected from a bomber over North Vietnam in April

Thorsness was reared in Walnut Grove, Minn., and joined the Air Force in 1951. He and his wife, Gaylee, live in rural Sioux Falls. Their daughter, Dawn, 18, attends Stanford University.

Farm exports to remain high

WASHINGTON (AP)-Record farm billion from the previous high of $9.4 exports are continuing to be the mainstay in Nixon administration strategy for putting U.S. trade with other countries on a sound footing for the first time in three years.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, ho has vigorously opposed suggestions for curbing foreign deliveries of U.S. grain and other commodities, estimated Thursday that farm exports in calendar 1973 jumped to a record of about $17.4 billion.

That would be up approximately $8

Judge nixes dumping CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) - U.S.

District Court here has denied a steel company's request to be let out of an agreement to stop dumping waste into the Ohio River

Judge Timothy S. Hogan Thursday refused the request by the Empire-Detroit Steel Division of Cyclops Corp. involving its plant near Portsmouth.

The steel company said compliance with a 1972 agreement with the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) to stop discharging mill scale could force closure of the 2,000-man plant.

Judge Hogan set a hearing later this year after settlement of a related case in 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The steel company said it has already spent $1.5 million on partial compliance and that it would lose $5-7 million if forced to comply totally.

Empire-Detroit contends mill scale is not a pollutant and challenges OR-SANCO's authority to order cessation of river pollution.

Seek recovery

of state cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Atty. Gen. William J. Brown has gone into Common Pleas Court here to recover $1,417 he says was not accounted for in the sale of a drug information booklet in suburban Worthington.

The suit was filed against the city's police chief, Paul Abbott, and Curt Gebhart, a promoter of the booklet.

The state auditor reported last June the money was not accounted for after the sale of the booklet.

Ph. 335-2570

billion in 1972, Butz said in a statement. Most important, he said, last year's farm sales exceed agricultural imports by a wide margin.

'Agricultural exports for 11 months (of 1973) were $15.7 billion against agricultural imports of $7.6 billion," "Meanwhile, said. nonagricultural exports were $48.2 billion, compared with nonagricultural imports of $55.7 billion."

In November alone, the most recent month calculated, farm exports totaled more than $1.2 billion and offset deficits in nonagricultural exchange by about $300 million for the month, Butz said.

The statement by Butz and the figures on U.S. trade followed a report last week by the Commerce Department showing similar statistics. Asked why USDA seemed to be duplicating the earlier announcement, one department press officer said, "Commerce plays down agriculture, so we put out our own stuff."

The farm export figures also were on a calendar-year basis, despite a practice of also computing them on a fiscal year standard. Butz and others previously announced farm exports are expected to be about $19.3 billion for the year ending next June 30.

Still another method used by USDA commodity experts is to compute exports, in the case of many items, on a crop-year basis. That varies in the case of wheat from a year beginning on July to corn exports figured from Oct. 1. Regardless of the technicalities, Butz has consistently heralded farm exports as a national economic advantage and uses each opportunity to give farmers a pat on the back.

"American farmers, by virtue of their superior ability to produce, have marketed enough products to foreign customers this year (1973) to offset the value of all our imports of coffee, cocoa, bananas and other agricultural products, of all our petroleum imports for the year, plus a substantial balance to apply against other nonagricultural imports," he said.

Soybean development project

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's proposal for creation of a Sino-American Soybean Research Institute is unlikely to generate much public excitement. This bill is nevertheless of great potential importance. For the fact is that as demand for high quality vegetable protein soars, soybeans will play an increasingly significant role in the world's food economy.

What Humphrey contemplates is a joint undertaking by the United States and China to increase soybean yields and adaptability to new producing regions.

The Institute he seeks to establish also would get into other aspects of soybean research and technology, including development of additional uses for soybeans and soybean products as sources of human and animal protein, including the development of new foods and food substitutes and ex-

This enterprise would not require a great outlay of funds; for initial operation of the Institute the United States would furnish only two million dollars annually. The President would be instructed to ask the World Bank to consider putting up additional money.

To further emphasize the international character of the project, the bill suggests utilizing the expertise of various groups active in soybean research, notably the U.S. International for Agency Development and the U.N.'s Food and Agriculture Organization.

The United States, which already produces a large share of world soybean supplies, and China, whose 800 million people represent a huge potential demand for soybeans, are well suited to this joint undertaking.

The ultimate benefit for the world's underdeveloped nations is incalculably great. Congress would do well to give the project its blessing without undue delay.

Voluntary News Council enough

The House of Representatives adjourned without passing an energy bill. Maybe it's better that way: the common sense and ingenuity of the people should be able to combine fuelsaving measures with the discovery of new sources of heat and power without any legislative ukases.

The fewer laws, the better for

Our mania for new laws might have saddled us with a compulsory press code during the period in which Spiro Agnew was riding high. Fortunately, the agitation for mandatory disclosure of news sources died down before our Congress could get around to amending the First Amendment by a misguided legislative interference.

THE AGNEW ERA has left us with one legacy that looks to the fostering of a responsible press; it is a newly formed National News Council which, luckily, intends to operate on a voluntary basis.

The council is headed by Roger Traynor, former Chief Justice of the California Supreme Court, and it is already busy pushing a study of the threats to a free press posed, among other things, by judicial rulings in the lower courts. The study will take off from the recent Florida Supreme Court decision which would force the Miami Herald to give a sorehead political figure the right to equal space in replying to an editorial that appeared in its pages

Britain, the country of Coke and Blackstone which bequeathed us its heritage of the Common Law, has, according to all reports, solved its problems of press fairness by trusting to a voluntary Press Council.

The secretary of the British Press Council, Noel S. Paul, recently passed through New York City on his way to Buffalo to address the Sigma Delta Chi society of prefessional journalists. Mr. Paul, a former features editor for the British Home County Newspapers, a chain of weeklies, was critical, in a polite and civilized way, of Our Yankee predilection for running to government for a compulsory settlement of our troubles.

more and more inclined to choke themselves with legislation - a "kind of pollution" in his view.

Twenty years ago the British parliament considered forcing a statutory press council on the British media. The newspapers fended off the danger of government control of the news columns by forming a voluntary council composed of management and employee representatives. Later the council changed its constitution to allow for a non-press chairman and a minority of "public" members chosen by a special appointment commission. A complaints committee composed of equal members of the press and the public has recently been added.

The British answer to the problem of maintaining a fair press has, so Mr. Paul says, succeeded beyond expectations. It has done this not by setting up any rigid codes of newspaper conduct, but by keeping a weather eye on whatever moral standards may be deemed acceptable to the public at any given moment.

Thus, by accepting a view of patriotism that has recently been dishonored in the U.S., the British Press Council has condemned the publishing of government documents before stipulated release dates. Complaints about giving lurid details in stories of sexual assault have also been upheld by the council.

> THE EVEN-HANDED behavior of the British Press Council has led to clashes with government, but the council has been sustained in at least one important case by a government investigation of contempt of court procedure. Mr. Paul seemed impressed by the Washington-based Accuracy in Media, which is operated on a shoestring by Abe Kalish, whose small staff has picked up errors in news stories and columns without regard to questions of political affiliation. A voluntary press council in America could easily co-exist with such an organization as Accuracy in Media by agreeing to act as a board of review for its complaints.

By the same taken, freedom also includes the right to abstain. Newspapers that refuse to support the National News Council or any of our new regional press councils are quite within their rights.

The reasonableness of a decision to abstain from identification with watchdog organizations would be judged by a newspaper's ability to be fair without formal commitments.

Voluntarism is enough in any country On the other hand, the council has where one's critics are free to publish

. . Down Memory Lane

NEW YORK (AP) - Memory is man's greatest blessing.

Another View

It gives him the day-to-day and yearto-year continuity that enable him to have an identity and a personality. It is his memories as much as anything that make him who he is. Without them man would be a subhuman animal-or an ambulant amnesic vegetable.

Of course, memory can be a mixed blessing. It can bring pain as well as provide comfort. But on the whole it is more healing than hurtful.

The more active your life and mind have been, the greater your store of memories should be. You've got a lot to recall if you can look back and remember when-

If the butcher liked you, he'd save a supply of liver and give it to you free to feed to your cat, as few human beings thought the stuff fit for consumption.

Girls thought it a mark of beauty to let their fingernails grow as long as possible and paint them pearly.

No man in his right mind would think of going hatless to church on Sunday. A precocious youngster was a grammar school pupil who wanted his nature study teacher to give precise information on how mermaids reproduce— and whether they had live figures low babies or just laid eggs.

Almost every kid in America had heard a live horse whinny and a live cow moo. Only bums, Viennese-trained pschoanalysts and symphony orchestra conductors wore beards. A man knew he was in a deluxe establishment if the barber charged him 15 cents for a shave.

To avoid boredom a kid could always go out to the local city dump in the afternoon and shoot rats with a .22caliber rifle.

Those were the days—remember? Ohio welfare

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)-A survey by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare ranks Ohio below the national average in the number of welfare recipients per 1,000 population.

Ohio has 58.7 public assistance recipients for every 1,000 persons, compared to the national average of 70.1, the survey showed.

The state has 45.1 per 1,000 receiving Aid to Dependent Children assistance. The national average is 51.7.

Moses Slays the Idolators

And the children of Levi did according to the word of Moses: and there fell of the people that day about three thousand men.

Many were the torments Moses was to suffer after returning from Mount Sinai with the precious tables of stone on which God had written the Ten Commandments. First there was the unbearable sight of certain Israelites worshipping a golden calf which they had persuaded Aaron, their interim leader, to let them build-an impiety so heinous that Moses smashed the tables in rage-but there were the doings of Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron. These two had a following of idolators who, naked and lewd, were producing strange fire and other forms of devil worship. Incensed at this effrontery to the Lord, Moses called on the loyal Levites to destroy them all.

To Our Many Customers And Friends

MAY WE EXPRESS OUR SINCERE THANKS AND NEW YEAR WISHES . . . .

1974 business hours remain the same as they have been for many years in the past:

> OPEN 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on MONDAYS AND FRIDAYS

CLOSED THURSDAY AFTERNOON

CLOSED ON SUNDAYS

OPEN 9 to 5 On All Other Days —

The Thursday afternoon closing is in our customers own interest as we use these previous undisturbed hours to attend to our more delicate bench work. For as you already know we do most all our work on our premises as we do not trust your valuables to the hands of distant and some times unreliable outsiders.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR UNDERSTANDING

Shining Circle program is 'Call to Prayer'

The Shining Circle of Madison Mills United Methodist Women met in the home of Mrs. John Delay Wednesday evening. Mrs. Gary Hidy presented the program which consisted of the "Call to Prayer and Self-Denial" observance entitled "I am the Vine, Ye are the Branches."

Mrs. George LeBeau Jr., leader, opened the business session with a poem. A thank you note was read from Mrs. Chester Dean, from the Elizabeth Ann Nursing Home in Washington C.H., for the holiday party given by the Society. The Circle voted to sponsor an Easter party for the same residents in the nursing home in April.

Mrs. Hidy also announced World Day of Prayer for March 12 in the Madison Mills Church. A district leadership training workshop is planned from 2 until 4:30 p.m. Sunday in the Bloomingburg United Methodist Church. The Shining Cross Circle voted to sponsor a missionary supper sometime in Feburary. A report was given by Mrs. Hidy as to what had been done for the local low-income families for the holidays.

The annual meeting of the Church Women United will be Jan. 25 in McNair Presbyterian Church, when the officers will be installed.

Officers for 1974 for the United Methodist Women are Mrs. Jess Schlichter, president; Mrs. John Melvin, vice president; Mrs. John Delay, secretary; Mrs. Paul Huff, treasurer; Mrs. LeBeau, representative to CWU; Mrs. Hidy, news reporter and spiritual growth chairman; Mrs. Cecil Recob, Christian social relations; Mrs. Leland Dorn, missionary education; Mrs. Ethel Wilson, program materials; and Circle leaders, Mrs. Raymond Anderson and Mrs. Wayne Shobe, Mary Martha; and Mrs. LeBeau and Mrs. Robert Hinchman, Shining Cross.

In Feburary, the Mary Martha Circle will meet with Mrs. Shobe. Mrs. Anderson will be in charge of the program.

The Shining Cross Circle will meet with Mrs. Gordon Payne and Mrs. Don Hanawalt will present the program. The meeting concluded with the Miz- surrounded by Secret Service guards. pah Benediction.

Refreshments were served.

Vary that meat loaf

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor If you are always on the lookout, as we are, for ways of varying that old standby, meat loaf, you may be interested in the following spanking-new and good recipe.

Instead of stirring minced or sauteed onion into the meat mixture as is usually done, this recipe calls for adding a layer of thin onion rings and one of pimientos between two layers of meat. The onion rings stay slightly crunchy and offer pleasing texture contrast. The pimientos offer additional flavor and attractive color.

When we tried this recipe, we served baked potatoes and a cooked green vegetable with it. But you might like to team it with baked beans and a crisp green salad.

PIMIENTO-ONION MEAT

- 1-3rd cup milk
- 1 jar or can (4 ounces) pimiento 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2 cups fresh bread crumbs 2 pounds ground chuck beef

1 medium-small onion, thinly sliced and separated into rings

Into a medium mixing bowl turn the eggs and milk. Drain and add the liquid from the pimientos; reserve pimientos. Add salt, pepper, mustard and Worcestershire. Beat to combine. Add bread crumbs; mix well. Add beef; with your hands, knead until blended.

Divide meat mixture in half. Press one half into an ungreased 8-inch square baking dish. Slit pimientos and open flat; arrange over meat mixture. Place onion rings over pimientos. Pat remaining half of meat over top.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 45 to 60 minutes. LEt stand about 10 minutes. Pour off liquid in baking dish. Cut into squares; remove with a wide spatula or server and serve at once.

Makes 6 to 8 servings. Note: If you like, you may garnish the meat loaf with slices of pimiento and paper-thin onion rings.

The first telephone was installed in the white House by President Rutherford B. Hayes, who took office in 1877, the World Book Encyclopedia says. The installation was ordered after the President saw Alexander Graham Bell demonstrate his invention. President Hayes also ordered a telegraph installed.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT AP Television Writer

LONON (AP) - Because of the power crisis, British TV has ended each night's broadcasting at 10:30 p.m. since mid-December. The nation is surviving, but at least one viewer here is angry.

She's Mrs. A.M. Taylor of Droop Street, who, in an epistle to the Evening Standard, denounced the early TV shutdown and the end of "all floodlit football and greyhound racing."

Those blackouts are to conserve power, she noted, "but other and more expensive evening entertainment, including the banqueting emporia, strip and other 'nite' spots are allowed to continue unabated although using large amounts of electricity.

"Yet another example of the Government's class distinction," she sniffed.

Be that as it may, a vacationer here-to wit, me-had a lot of fun watching what remained on the powerstarved tube here over the Christmas holidays. Rowdy or restrained, it had

Even the capsule TV lists had style. I cite this one on "Jolson Sings Again," an ancient movie: "A sequel to that other film about the singer with the blacked-up face who spent a lot of time down on his knees going on about his mammy."

Alas, we missed that one, as well as a unique special, "Queen of Hearts." It starred a famous female impersonator named Danny La Rue in no less than 12 different and lavish gowns.

It may have been his last TV appearance as a madamoiselle in mufti. He recently announced he was "hanging up his bra" and going into legitimate acting. As he explained, "I don't want to be remembered only as the fella in a frock."

Still, in a week largely devoted to scientific tests of ale, we managed to see such other television sights as:

-Prime Minister Edward Heath, a good amateur musician, competently and joyfully conducting a Christmas chorale and orchestra.

—Six newscasters gathered together on London's commercial TV station to sing five minutes of Christmas carols and give no news whatsoever.

-"The Stanley Baxter Big Picture Show," in which Baxter pilloried, among other things, an old Scotland Yard series. The villain, it seemed. killed his victim by making him watch the series. "Deliberately bored him to death," the inspector explained.

Welfare probe in Mahoning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)-Investigators from the Ohio Department of Public Welfare will be in Mahoning County Monday for a review of the county's aid to dependent children program. State Welfare Director Charles W. Bates said the 22 investigators will examine and verify the records of 216 ADC cases, 5 per cent of the county's ADC caseload.

It's part of a statewide effort ordered by Gov. John J. Gilligan after a report showed almost 14 per cent of the ADC cases in Ohio were ineligible.

IT TAKES LANDMARK, 35% Sow & Pig Supplement

Good pasture and home grains help, but it still takes a good supplement to raise pigs economically today. The 35% protein in LANDMARK Sow & Pig Supplement comes from several sources, to assure proper amino acid balance plus the right vitamins and minerals.

Feed it to brood sows and the baby pigs will have a built-in head start in life. It provides all essential growth elements for both sows and their litters during gestation and lactation. LANDMARK Sow & Pig Supplement is especially good for hogs in confinement. You'll like its economy; only 300 lbs. to 1,700 lbs. ground corn makes a 13% finishing ration. Available in meal, pellets or cubes; we'll add the medication of your choice.

Voters in the Madison Plains Local School District who reside in Fayette County will participate in special election Jan. 15 on a proposed three-mill additional tax levy for the school district.

The tax levy, which was defeated at the November general election, will provide for current operating expenses for a continuing period.

The Fayette County Board of Elections said voters who reside in the Waterloo Precinct in Madison Township will cast ballots in the West Precinct of Pleasant Township. The polling place is located in the township house at Mount Sterling.

Voters who reside in the Bookwalter Precinct of Paint Township will be casting ballots in the Range Township hall at Danville.

Polls open at 6:30 a.m. and close at 6:30 p.m.

Prayer rule disputed in court

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) - A Supreme Court to court over the landmark 1963 ban on prayer in the public schools.

The Rev. Dean R. Roberts filed suit in U.S. District Court here Thursday, challenging the high court's definition of a religious service and claiming the court used a double standard to judge the constitutionality of religious ser-

"In my opinion, the mere recitation of a prayer or scripture verse in no way constitutes establishment of a religion," Roberts said.

"It seems that the high court, in Canton clergyman is taking the striking down prayer in the public schools and sanctioning the same prayer in military camps, prisons and legislatures, has employed a double standard..."

In June, 1963, the court ruled that state and local laws requiring prayer or Bible exercises in public schools violated the Constitution, which prohibits Congress from making a law establishing religion.

Roberts proposed a period of silent prayer for students who wish to worship during school and rest or study periods for other students.

Jon H. Alkire, 23, of 526 Pearl St., was fined a total of $800 and was given a suspended 18-month jail sentence by acting Municipal Judge John P. Case after he pleaded guilty to charges of possession of a hallucinogen, illegal possession of a hypodermic needle, illegal possession of a barbiturate and disturbing the peace.

The suspension of jail time is contingent upon his not violating any federal or state law for a period of two years and his cooperation with Mar-shall Boggs, probation officer, during that period.

The hearing for Raymond L. Clark, Jr., 24, of 914 John St., was continued until Jan. 10 after his lawyer called from Columbus to say that he was unable to be present for the hearing Thursday.

The two were arrested Dec. 20 after drugs and hypodermic equipment were discovered in an automobile driven by Clark in which Alkire was a passenger. The vehicle was involved in an accident, and the drugs were found during the police investigation.

Jack Benny in tax trouble over donation

WASHINGTON (AP) - Comedian Jack Benny claims his donation of show-business memorabilia to the University of California at Los Angeles entitled him to a $156,000 federal tax deduction, but the Internal Revenue Service disagrees.

The year 1973 was one of good economy in Fayette County and Washington C.H., Richard E. Whiteside, president of the Washington Savings Bank, told shareholders at their annual meeting Thursday.

Citing the "fairly favorable crop yields with the best commodity prices in the history of agriculture" as the key to the thriving condition, Whiteside stated that the growth of the bank was also tied to the farmer of the area.

The bank increased its assets from 23 1-3rd million dollars to 31 1-3rd million dollars during the year. This is the largest growth ever, Whiteside said.

He observed that 1974 appears to be a year of leveling off and the prfits of the farmer will probably not be as great. "However, worldwide markets may cause a continuing demand for our products, and we could experience another great year for our farmers," Whiteside continued.

Re-elected to the board of directors were A.H. Finley, Herbert C. Hoppes, Ralph K. Child, R.E. Whiteside, Ralph Theobald, Ronald Cornwell, Paul F. Rodenfels, Howard Wright and C. Glenn McCov.

At the reorganization meeting which followed the annual meeting, Finley was elected chairman; Whiteside,

Twinbill faces Blue Lion cagers

WCH vs Hillsboro top game Friday; meet Cavs Saturday

By DENNIS STAPLETON Record-Herald Sports Editor

The Washington C.H. basketball team is involved in a double-header this weekend as Hillsboro invades the Lions hardwood Friday and the Blue Lions travel to Chillicothe Saturday night. Both games will begin at 8:00.

When the pesky Indians go on the warpath Friday, Washington C.H. will be searching for it's fifth South Central Ohio League victory against one loss. Prior to last week's heart breaking 51-50 loss to Miami Trace the red hot Lions had been victorious seven games in succession. But when a team possesses so much spirit as the Lions, the winning trail shouldn't be hard to get back on.

Currently the Indians have a 3-2 SCOL record made up of losses to Miami Trace and Greenfield and wins

WCH game cancelled

The Washington C.H. and Hillsboro basketball game originally scheduled for tonight has been cancelled due to hazardous road conditions according to Bob Bane WSHS athletic director.

The game has been rescheduled for Tuesday Jan. 15 at Washington senior high school. Starting time for the reserve game will be 6 p.m. instead of the usual 6:30.

over Circleville, Wilmington and Madison Plains. Last week's 53-47 win over Circleville should have left Hillsboro in high spirits for it's sixth SCOL game of the season.

Hillsboro holds the best offensive average-66.0 points-and is the third best defensive team allowing 63.3 points to be scored. The Blue Lions are the second stingiest team in the SCOL allowing only 57.6 points every four quarters while scoring at a neat 62.7 point clip.

Kevin Bailey, leading scorer in the SCOL with a 19.0 point average, is the main spark of the Indians. The 5-foot-9 senior guard has high games of 27 and 26 points this season. Both against SCOL teams. The crackerjack guard also plays excellent defense and rebounds with authority. Complimenting Bailey is Dave Larimer. The spunky forward averages 11.4 points along with eight rebounds per game. Rounding out the remaining starters should be Mike Vance at guard, Mike Sharkey at forward and

Roger Jewett at the pivot. Jewett stands only 6-foot-1 but has good jumping ability and a good knowledge of the game. Sixth man for the Indians will be Lawrence Turner. Turner was a starter earlier this season but plays better coming off the bench.

The Blue Lions will run the same lineup that was used against Miami Trace. Doug Boswell and Garth Cox trading places throughout the game at center, Chuck Byrd and slick ball handling Craig Shaffer at the guards and Kenny Knisley and third leading scorer in the SCOL Doug Phillips at the forward

Saturday night the Lions face a tough Central Ohio League opponent in Chillicothe.

Chillicothe has a record of 7-1 losing only to South Point 71-68. The Cavaliers played Miami Trace earlier in the season and humiliated the Panthers 99-64. Chillicothe has a tenacious fast break and a demoralizing diamond press. Six-foot-2 All-State candidate Mark Bayless leads the Cavaliers in their attack. The gifted guard is the fifth leading scorer in Chillicothe high school history and is currently averaging 21.5 points. Bayless has been out in previous games suffering from a wrist injury. But the talented star might see action against Newark Friday and against the Blue Lions Saturday. Rounding out the starting five for the Cavaliers should be Mike Ratzlaff, Jim Gause, Kevin Blevins and Terry Richardson. Rex Blake should fill in for Bayless if the whiz kid doesn't

Other SCOL action this weekend finds Greenfield at Wilmington Friday night, Miami Trace travelling to Madison Plains Friday, Circleville at Westfall Saturday and Miami Trace venturing to London Saturday. Tuesday night play has Madison Plains at Southeastern and Hillsboro hosting Blanchester.

Cincinnati Reds maintain schedule

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) - The Cincinnati Reds, who drew a record two million fans last season, said they plan a full schedule of night games at the regular starting time.

GARBAGE BOWL — Two Montreal West players rush the Montreal South ball carrier during the Garbage Bowl in Montreal. In this spoof on the American bowl games, the players wear longjohns with the trap-doors open over their regular equipment. The Garbage Bowl has been held for 25 years and the proceeds from the game go to charity. The final score was a tie, 0-0.

Baseball to cut use of energy

league baseball, along with other sports and recreational organizations, is making plans to reduce energy consumption up to 25 per cent — but success will depend on the fans.

Representatives of some 30 associations met for an hour Thursday with Federal Energy Office officials to discuss measures they could adopt to conserve energy in their operations.

Baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn submitted a general outline for a comprehensive energy conservation plan developed for the major leagues for this year's season which he said would result in a 25 per cent saving

Kuhn told newsmen after the meeting that baseball, which flew on chartered flights 60 per cent of the time during last season, will reduce charter flights by one-half or more.

'This will be done by using regularly scheduled flights whenever possible,

Kuhn also said baseball expects to eliminate or substantially curtail the use of electrical power for illuminating night games, 20 per cent of which occurs before the game begins.
"We will endeavor to start night games at times which will present the least problem taking into consideration local utility peak load factors," he said.

The commissioner said that batting practice before games will not be eliminated but that it would be taken prior to a game when there is sufficient light to do so.

Kuhn said baseball had not considered playing all day games because "that would cause a substantial change in the game." He also said the 1974 schedule of 162 games would not be reduced to 154 games.

He also said he did not believe it was realistic to realign the American and

WASHINGTON (AP) - Major National Leagues in 1974 and 1975 to reduce travel. Kuhn said baseball will encourage fans to use public transit and car pools to get to ball parks.

John C. Sawhill, deputy administrator for the Federal Energy Office, said most of the other associations at the meeting agreed to try to reduce energy consumption although only baseball offered a general outline of what it intends to do. 'We don't want to reduce participation in sports, or reduce sports itself, but we want to use the energy more efficiently," he said.

Sawhill said the major recommendation coming out of the meeting was that fans use public transportation and car pools to attend sports events.

Arizona bombs Wyoming, 93-77

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Wild, Wild West opened a new season Thursday night — and the star of the show was Coneil "Popcorn" Norman.

"It's always a big win for us in Laramie," said Arizona Coach Fred Snowden after enjoying Norman's dramatic, 26-point performance in a 93-77 Western Athletic Conference victory over Wyoming.

Norman thrived in the role of the leading man — helping the 15th-ranked Wildcats run off 10 straight points midway through the second half that pulled the curtain down on Wyoming.

The Arizona coach hopes for a rerun in Saturday's game against Colorado State, no doubt another shootout in the wide-open conference.

In other games involving the nation's ranked teams, No. 9 Long Beach State crushed Los Angeles State 93-76; No. 18 Memphis State tripped Bradley 88-76 in overtime and Southern Mississippi upset No. 20 Austin Peay in a consolation game of the Senior Bowl basketball tournament in Mobile, Alabama. Incidentally, South Alabama won the tournament with a 74-64 upset of Missouri in the finals.

Clifton Pondexter scored 20 to pace Long Beach over Los Angeles State. Pondexter, a 6-foot-8 freshman center, collected seven rebounds and connected on 9-of-14 field goal attempts as the 49ers won their 10th game in 11

Williams will sue Finley

RIVIERA BEACH, Fla. (AP) - I'm not concerned about Dick Following the hiring of Bill Virdon as manager of the New York Yankees, Virdon, e Dick Williams says he now plans a court battle against the man who kept him from getting the job.

Williams, who quit as manager of the Oakland A's to accept the Yankee position, said Thursday he will take Oakland owner Charlie Finley to court.

"Whether the Yankee job will become available as a result of my counter-attack against Finley, I really can't say. But I'm not done yet, Williams said from his Riviera Beach

Williams said the annoucement of Virdon's hiring had not taken him by surprise.

"I've known of the possibility of them hiring Bill for a few days now," he said. "They couldn't wait any longer."

Williams, who quit as Oakland manager after guiding them to their second straight World Series championship, said under no circumstances would he report to the A's spring camp next month.

William's had signed with the Yankees, but that contract was voided by outgoing American League President Joe Cronin after Finley filed a federal court suit to force Williams to honor the two remaining years on his Oakland contract.

"As far as I'm concerned," said Virdon, "I'm the manager of the New York Yankees and I like it that way.

Virdon, ex-skipper of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was named to the Yankee job Thursday, ending the three-month tug of war that the New York club had been waging with Oakland owner Charles O. Finley over Williams.

Last month, Virdon signed a contract to manage Houston's Denver farm club in the Pacific Coast League. Does that mean the Yankees have inherited another Williams-type contract hassle? Virdon laughed at the suggestion.

"No, no," he said. "I had a stipulation in the Denver contract that if I were offered a major league job, I would be free to go.'

That offer came earlier this week from the Yankees, who had run into a dead end in their negotiations with Finley aimed at trying to get the A's boss to release Williams from the last two years of his managing contract.

The Yankees had tried to force the issue a few weeks ago when they signed Williams to a three-year contract. But outgoing American League President Joe Cronin nixed that deal, sending the Yankees back to Finley to try to satisfy the Oakland boss, who kept insisting on a couple of top prospects in return for Williams.

"Charley wanted too much," said George M. Steinbrenner, general partner of the Yankees. That was when the club turned to Virdon.

"He's a winner and that's the kind of man we wanted," said Steinbrenner.

Bidding Quiz

You are South and have the following

♠ AQ95 ♥ AKJ83 ♠ K72 ♣ 10

1. East bids One Club, which you double, and North's response is One Spade. What would you bid now?

2. West bids One Club, which East raises to Two Clubs, and you double for takeout. Your partner's response is Two Hearts. What would you bid now?

3. Your partner bids One Notrump. When you respond Three Hearts, he raises to Four Hearts. What would you bid now?

1. Three Spades. Partner's spade bid, aside from showing four or more spades, does not designate his highcard strength and, in fact, he may not have a point. However, it is a fairly good rule of thumb to assume he has 3 or 4 points and proceed accordingly. By raising North to three, you cover the case where he has a practically worthless hand, and at the same time apprize him that there is a game if he has almost anything at all. You can't safely bid four all by yourself, for you need a little something from partner for him to come home with ten tricks. 2. Three hearts. Again all you can do is invite partner to bid game. Three hearts in this sequence is a very strong call, and partner is expected to press on with extremely modest values. It would be quite wrong to bid four hearts. Remember that, unlike the previous example, the opening bid is on your left, so you can expect the cards to lie rather badly.

3. Four spades. You can't stop short of a small slam — you and partner have at least 33 high-card points — so all your efforts should be bent on trying to get to seven. It would be wrong to use Blackwood, because partner's response wouldn't tell you whether he had the king of spades and queen of hearts - two very vital cards - even if he showed two aces and a king.

Hands where intermediate cards are highly crucial are better handled by cuebids than by Blackwood. By permitting partner to evalute his hand, you can often produce better results than by using Blackwood and making partner an automaton who does no more than tell you how many aces and kings he has.

He Has Noises in His Head

I have noises in my head which are just driving me crazy. With all the scientific advancement against cancer and other diseases it's hard to believe that such a simple but pesty problem cannot be solved.

Mr. C.L., N.C.

Dear Mr. L.: Only those people who have ever had persistent noise in the head can appreciate the annoyance of this con-

Such noises can drive people to distraction because the sounds in many cases defy all forms of treatment.

The problem of tracking down the cause of ear and head noises is not simple because the causes of noise (or "tinnitus") are so varied.

These sounds may be caused by wax in the ears, low-grade infections of the eardrums or middle-ear infection. Changes in the Eustachian tube, problems with the blood supply to the inner ear, and injury to the hearing mechanism may also be responsible. Noises may even be the result of

In Focus by

Charlie Pensyl What is it that makes

photographer better than the next one? No doubt there are many factors. Let's kick a few of them around. Motivation to excel is a trait not possessed by everyone, but without this trait the lensman will be run-of-the-mill. The same could be said for a linebacker, a salesman, or a dentist. So let's assume motivation is there.

First, it would seem, this lensman should learn his camera. A good place to start is at the instruction book. Use the camera! Find out just what the camera will do. Most cameras are capable of far more than the user demands of it. Too many cameramen get the idea that "one more gadget" will make him a photographer. No gadget is going to make a photographer out of anybody! Study and practice, yes, but not another gadget.

It has been said that approbation is the motivating factor. I guess that's true. If you have a young person you wish to help in photography give him encouragement, occasional praise; that will help him more than buying him another photo gadget. Of course, if you still want to buy him a gadget, we have them to sell.

It has also been said that there is a direct correlation between the greatness of the photographer and the use he makes of his wastebasket. Throw away the stuff that's not up to your standard. That's a good point. And use care in selecting the lab to do your processing. Your film should always be processed by the company that made the film. That's most important.

allergy and individual sensitivity to drugs or tabacco. For example, quinine taken in large quantities can cause irritating head noises.

Certain types of deafness, Meniere's disease, migraine or malformations of the blood vessels may be the underlying cause. All of these possible causes must be eliminated before any form of treatment is started.

Patients with head noises need a great deal of emotional support and assurance to tide them over the investigating period.

Is warm climate beneficial for arthritis and rheumatism? I hesitate to make a drastic move, but I would if thought I could be helped.

Mr. L.D.B., Mich. Dear Mr. B.:

It is generally believed that patients with such chronic conditions seem to feel more comfortable in a warm, dry climate. Yet many people who have precipitously uprooted themselves have been disappointed by a change in geography.

It is wise, therefore, for anyone who is contemplating moving to a new climate to try it for a reasonable length of time in all seasons before giving up one's home and business

It can be psychologically distressing and very expensive to come to the realization that climate alone is not the total answer to such a medical problem.

Three indicted by grand jury

The nine members of the Fayette County winter term grand jury returned indictments against three persons Thursday. All three were charged with grand larceny in connection with two separate incidents.

After hearing evidence presented by Assistant Fayette County Prosecutor Robert Simpson and being instructed by Judge Evelyn W. Coffman as to the legal definitions and elements of the alleged crimes, the jury returned indictments against James L. Sheldon, 44, and Glenn Sheldon Jr., 50, of Sabina, and Charles L. Wilson, 44, Columbus. A total of 13 witnesses were called by the

The Sheldons are charged in connection with the theft of carpeting from Redman Industries, and Wilson is charged with the theft of a wallet from a local tavern employe.

Arraignments for all three were set for Wednesday, and they will be asked to enter a plea at that time.

The courtroom activity for the year was begun Thursday after the Rev. Robert Cline of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, gave the invocation, and Bailiff R.B. (Bud) Tharp led the "Pledge of Allegiance."

On the jury were Mildred Kingery, Ethel Henry, Jessie Shepard, Velma Coates, Paul Jones, Mary Lou Ralston, Marian Moore, Steve Waddell and Mary Ella Boswell.

The jury also inspected the Fayette County Jail, which was found satisfactory.

No damage reported in Armco paint fire

A fire broke out on the paint line at the Armco Metal Products Division plant, U.S. 35-S, at 5:18 a.m., Friday.

When Washington C.H. firemen arrived on the scene the automatic sprinkler system already had extinguished the flames. There was no damage.
